

GUARDS FOR WOMAN GOVERNOR

HEBEPHRENIC dementia praecox is what one expert says is the matter with Dorothy Ellingson, the San Francisco girl who shot her mother because she objected to all-night booze parties.

Translating this formidable Greek and Latin into every day English, all it means is, "the sort of craziness you get when you are young." The chief symptoms in this case were that the girl had been shamelessly indecent in life, killed her mother ruthlessly, and was not sorry for it. That is, in the language of that forgotten age, when things were right or wrong, she was irretrievably, heartless and conscienceless. Translate these things into Greek and they become, instead of moral condemnations, learned pathological diagnoses. The ethical age has given way to the scientific. Sin is a disease and crime is its manifestation. Let us erect hospitals, where wickedness can be treated by diet and hydrotherapeutics. A little later, when we understand better the functions of the endocrine glands, we may have a separate serum for each of the Ten Commandments. The hypodermic needle will supersede the Thunders of Sinai.

The strange thing is not that specialists could be found to testify to these things, but that public sentiment should seem to agree with them. As recently as the Leopold-Loeb trial, the theories of the scientists clash with the rude moral indignation of the people. Now, less than a year later, the people are apparently with the psychologists. There is no cry that "hanging is too good for her."

There is even revolt against subjecting a girl who brutally murdered her mother to the ordeal of being tried for it. Rightly or wrongly, we are taking seriously what we recently derided. We have measured stupidity, dissected laziness, psychoanalyzed sin, diagnosed crime, and recognized virtue to a satisfied equation. Life is a laboratory, and we are its reagents.

It is an interesting phase, and doubtless not without its usefulness. But may be old-fashioned enough to predict that the Ten Commandments will not be entirely repealed, and to suggest that "thou shalt not" still has its penalties?

LUEDORFF having flizzed in the first German election, and Hindenburg having refused to lead the lost cause, it becomes evident how different is the Germany of today from that which precipitated the war.

For precisely this negligible and discredited minority was then of fiscal Germany. Germans, to be sure, were not all that way then. There were all sorts of Germans, of all sorts of opinions, but only one sort counted. It was power and spoke for Germany. Now it is too few and too discredited to be worth counting. Doubtless much of the change is due to millions of Germans having learned by experience.

But much of it also is due to democracy, which has been voted to those who, if they could have been heard, would have spoken truth even before the war. Democracy has its faults, of vacillation and timidity. France and America are showing them. But it also has its virtues. Whatever good has come out of Germany since the war is due to it.

THE California legislature passes a bill for a judicial council to improve the administration of justice. Some other states are considering similar measures, and the national government, under the leadership of Chief Justice Taft, is moving cautiously in the same direction.

Evidently there is the beginning of a realization that our administration of justice needs improving. We are satisfied with the principles of American justice, and with our judicial system. We are not satisfied with the efficiency of its practical operation.

How long will it be before we arrive at the same realization, as to our legislature system? It, too, satisfies us in principle. But nobody is satisfied with it in operation. What we lack is understanding of what is the matter with it.

We still aspire to cure a structural defect by "electing better men." We know that this is not what is the matter with our judicial system. Our federal judges are good enough, and our state judges will do. The trouble is that their task has outgrown the original methods and they have not been revised, as those of all other business have.

The same is true of legislation. The old machine is undertaking to do railroad work with ox-cart implements. Whenever we realize that, we shall be ready to find out how to cure it.

DISABLED STEAMER TOWED NORTHWARD

SAN PEDRO, April 11.—The disabled tank steamer, William F. Herrin, was being towed northward to San Francisco today, where she will undergo repairs.

The vessel, with a crew of 32 men, drifted helplessly for 24 hours off the Southern California coast, when her boilers went dead.

The tug Sea Fox and Restless, and the tanker Frank H. Buck, hastened to her rescue in response to distress calls, and the latter ship is towing the disabled vessel to San Francisco.

FRANCE BUSY IN FORMING NEW CABINET

Succeeding Ministry Will Be Largely of Herriot Persuasion, It Is Agreed

President Pursues Conferences to Effect Solution Of Tangle In Government

PARIS, April 11.—France, it appears, is to have another cabinet largely of Herriot persuasion.

As President Doumergue today pursued his conferences, in order to effect a quick solution of the parliamentary tangle growing out of Herriot's defeat and resignation yesterday, the conviction grew that the new government will be dominated by the left groups.

Leaders of both the right and left elements agreed, after conferring with the president, that such success appeared to be the best.

"I expect a solution quickly, and it is my belief a cabinet will be formed of members of the majority in the chamber (left groups) and possibly some outsiders," said Deputy Czales, head of the Radical Socialists in the chamber, after leaving Elysee palace.

The tangled financial situation, which brought about the fall of Premier Herriot, spurred President Doumergue and politicians toward a rapid solution of the cabinet crisis.

"It is indispensable that the situation be settled without delay," said Painleve, president of the chamber of deputies, observed, after a conference with Doumergue.

As is traditional after the resignation of a ministry, Doumergue not only discussed the crisis with Painleve, but with the president of the senate as well.

After a day of conferences, in which President Doumergue counseled leaders of all political factions, the question of a successor to Premier Herriot remained in doubt.

Former Premier Aristide Briand, had the longest conference of the afternoon with the president, reminding at the Elysee Palace 40 minutes," said Recorder Alfred Miles, in finishing 17-year-old May Shectman $6 for reckless driving.

WARNER LOSES IN FIRST ROUND OF COURT BATTLE IN OFFICE RENT ACTION

The defense lost in its first clash with the prosecution, in the case of the County of Orange against Justice C. W. Warner, of Huntington Beach, when Justice K. E. Morrison ruled late yesterday that the action must be tried in the Santa Ana court. Justice Morrison refused to quash the complaint on motion of the defense.

The suit involves a demand by the county for judgment amounting to $180. It is claimed that Justice Warner collected $10 per month for 18 months, as an allowance for office rent which he was not paying.

Attorney A. E. Koepsel, representing Justice Warner, argued that the complaint should be quashed because it was not filed in Huntington Beach township, where the defendant resides. District Attorney A. P. Nelson contended the statutes provide that the action may be brought in the township where the money was received, which would be Santa Ana township.

The attorneys argued with reference to the code section relating to recovery of personal property. Justice Morrison, in ruling on the motion, disregarded the personal property section and based his ruling on another section, where an action on contract or obligation may be heard in the jurisdiction where it was deemed such contract or obligation was to be fulfilled.

If Justice Warner did obtain money from the county which he was not entitled to, the court reasoned, there was automatically created an implied contract or obligation to return it. The money was obtained at the courthouse and, therefore, if it should be returned, it should be returned there. In other words, said the court, if there was a contract to be fulfilled it was to be fulfilled at the courthouse, in Santa Ana township. Thus the court action could be brought in this township.

OPEN PROBE OF WHOLESALE DEATHS IN INDIANA FAMILY

Entertain Slight Hope For Sixth Member In Hinted Arsenic Poisoning

GARY, Ind., April 11.—Two boxes of arsenic have been found in the home of Mrs. Anna Cunningham, whose husband and four children died suddenly during the past six years, it was made known by police here this afternoon. Mrs. Cunningham, after being questioned by Chicago authorities, is to be returned here for investigation by Gary authorities.

CHICAGO, April 11.—Authorities today plunged into an investigation of the wholesale death mystery in a Gary, Ind., family. Five members of the family have died in the past six years and a sixth is near death in a hospital here.

It was shortly after David Cunningham, 24, was brought here from Gary for treatment, that his family requested an investigation. They told authorities how five others had died of sudden illness.

Suggest Arsenic Poisoning

A preliminary diagnosis of young Cunningham led physicians to believe he is the victim of arsenic poisoning. They said there is slight hope that he will recover.

The other deaths were:

In 1919, David Cunningham sr., 1920, Isabel, his 15-year-old daughter; 1921, Harry, a 24-year-old son; 1922, Charles, 19, and in 1923, Walter, 13 years of age.

With the exception of the stricken David jr., only the mother, Mrs. Anna Cunningham, and a younger sister survive.

Two assistant state attorneys left Chicago this afternoon for Gary, where they will make demands that the five bodies be exhumed as part of their investigation of the alleged "wholesale poison plot."

The action followed immediately after questioning of Mrs. Cunningham.

Mother Greatly Worried

Mrs. Dorothy Williams, of Chicago, niece of Mrs. Cunningham, told state attorneys that Mrs. Cunningham received a severe shock in 1918, when her son, Charles, shot and killed a chum, while playing with a shotgun. Ever since then, Mrs. Cunningham has shown signs of great worry and suffering, the woman said.

A few weeks ago Mrs. Cunningham became violent in her home and demanded a butcher knife with the announced intention of "killing everybody," Mrs. Williams said.

STATE SOLONS PREPARING FOR CLOSING GRIND

SACRAMENTO, April 11.—The state legislature resumed work after one of the most strenuous weeks thus far this session. Many of the members left this morning for Stockton, where they will be entertained by the city council and chamber of commerce of that city.

The Stocktonians are seeking state aid for their deep water project, and legislators will be taken over the ground and on a boat ride to view the situation. The advantages of widening and deepening the channel will be explained in detail.

A bill calling for an appropriation of $419,000 for state participation in the proposal was passed out of the assembly ways and means committee yesterday with favorable recommendations.

More measures of importance were acted upon during the past week than in any other like period since the session opened. A survey of the legislature's activities for the week indicated the final grind is started.

Grand Rush Nears

On Thursday of next week the "seven day rule" goes into effect and the grand rush and "double-fisted" passing of bills and appropriations will be in order. After Thursday the senate will not be able to handle anything but assembly bills and vice versa in the lower house.

The proposal to tax oleomargarine two cents a pound was one of the matters finally disposed of by the law makers this week. This bill now rests on the desk of the governor awaiting the executive's signature before coming a law.

The highway financing and gasoline tax increase battles were also productive of action during the week. The breed measure, calling for a one cent increase in the gas tax was reported out of committee and sent to the floor of the senate without recommendation.

In conjunction with this, the highway commission offered a budget of its proposed expenditures for 1925 showing the various highways to be worked on and the amount of money contemplated to be expended on each. The breed bill was amended to include provisions requiring the commission before the money becomes available.

Hartman Measure Loses

Assemblyman S. C. Hartman's constitutional amendment which would have taxed municipally owned public utilities was another measure of importance disposed of by the law makers. This amendment was defeated in the lower house by an overwhelming vote after a heated debate.

A bill to permit the formation of a metropolitan water district in the southern part of the state was reported out of the senate municipal corporation committee and will be on the senate floor next week.

Reapportionment, once one of the most talked of problems before the legislature, also came into its own the latter part of the week. Two bills advocating plans for reapportioning the state's legislative districts were sent back to the senate without recommendation.

Attempts to change the system of selecting members of the railroad commission failed when a constitutional amendment by Assemblyman Charles H. Duell of Chico was defeated in the lower house.

Another proposal by Duell which would have brought about a reorganization of the state board of education and made the office of superintendent of public instruction an appointive instead of elective one, was also killed. The bill was tabled in the committee on constitutional amendments.

The lower house has placed its endorsement on a system of old age pensions through its action in passing a bill by Assemblyman William Byrnes of Los Angeles. The measure would provide pensions of $30 per month for indigent persons over 70 years of age who had lived in the state 15 years or more.

Only a few more working days remain until April 24, the date set for adjournment.

Masons to Erect 25-Story Building

SAN FRANCISCO, April 11.—Masonic orders of San Francisco plan a 25-story lodge and office building here to cost at least $5,000,000, according to Eugene W. Levy, chairman of an Islam Temple committee. Plans include sale of other Masonic properties and centralization of the fraternity's branches in one structure.

Set Wedding Date For Richest Girl

NEW YORK, April 11.—Abby Rockefeller, America's wealthiest girl, and David Meriwether Milton, her school-boy sweetheart, will be married May 14 at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller jr. They obtained their marriage license Thursday.

McCoy Attacks Photo Men On Way to Prison

SAN QUENTIN, April 11.—Kid McCoy, former prize-fighter, sentenced to San Quentin for robbery and murder, was lodged in prison here today, but not until he put up one final attack on the law.

Enroute to the penitentiary on a Point Quentin ferry boat, the kid, heavily guarded, objected to newspaper photographers who surrounded him, and tried to attack them.

He broke a camera and threw objects at the photographers before he was subdued.

HINDENBURG ADHERES TO EMPIRE IDEA

German War Lord Says No One Can Insist He Yield On Political Convictions

OPPOSED TO UPRISING

Agrees on Constitution, But Declares Spirit Inspiring State Form Is Decisive

BERLIN, April 11.—Adherence to the monarchistic creed was promised today by Field Marshal von Hindenburg in an Easter message.

"Just as Ebert at no time denied his socialist origin," the empire bloc's presidential candidate said, "Nobody can demand that I surrender my political convictions."

Later in his address, however, Hindenburg agreed to stand on the present constitution with the following aphorism:

"It is not the state's form, but the spirit which inspires the state's form, that is decisive."

Restore Nation by Work

The field marshal declared he was opposed to any war or uprising within his country, adding that only long, peaceful work could restore Germany.

Hindenburg then spoke of the appeal which prompted him to accept the candidacy.

"Fatherlandish" Germans from all German regions and of all German races offered me the reich's highest office," he said, "I accepted the call after a serious examination of what was involved."

"My life lies clear before the whole world. I believe I always have done my duty, even in difficult times. When duty demands, I work as president, regardless of party, class or person, then I won't be found lacking."

Faith Never Lost

As a soldier, Hindenburg said, he always had the whole nation in mind, not parties.

"I never lost faith in the German people nor in God's help," he continued, "But I am no longer young enough to believe in the sudden change of things. No war or international uprising can emancipate our chained nation. That will require long, quiet work of peace."

Dr. Karl Jares, who received the Nationalist vote in the March elections, today called upon the German people to "vote for the best man and he is Hindenburg."

470 Employees Of Railway May Walk Out

SAN FRANCISCO, April 11.—Unless the Western Pacific railroad accedes Monday to demands of workers, 470 employees may go on strike, it was declared today. Conferences over increased wages have brought ultimatums from railway clerks, freight handlers and station employees that a strike vote will be called unless terms are met.

BALFOUR'S LIFE PERILED BY FURIOUS ARABIAN MOB

Hand-to-Hand Fights With Police Develop In Damascus Streets

LONDON, April 11.—The Earl of Balfour's life was actually endangered at the hands of an Arabian mob in Damascus before he was spirited to safety aboard a French warship at Beirut, according to the Damascus correspondent of the Times.

It was shortly after the noonday prayers, the writer declares in a graphic description of Balfour's dramatic experience, when the angry hum of the mob into the shopping district began to reach the ears of those in the Hotel Victoria, where Lord Balfour stopped in Damascus. The hum grew louder as the Arabs moved on toward the hotel. Then it was countered by a mobilization of police. Mounted and on foot and armed with rifles, police did their utmost between 12:30 and 2 p. m. to disperse the infuriated Arabs by discharging blank cartridges, but without success.

Constant shouts of "Down with the Balfour declaration!" and "down with Balfour!" came from the surging mob as it moved toward the hotel, while guests, looking down from the balconies of the hostelry, were kept busy dodging the shower of stones hurled at them.

Hand-to-hand fighting between Arabs and police developed after the mob had hurled huge stones at the mounted officers. The police retaliated by pounding the Arabs' heads with the butts of their rifles.

By 2 p. m. the cavalry had driven the wavering mob into side streets from which the sullen demonstrators voiced their defiance.

The demonstrations against Lord Balfour were engendered through his work in the establishment of a national Jewish home in Palestine. He is the author of the Half-hour Declaration, by which Great Britain announced support of the Zionist movement. Lord Balfour went to Palestine recently to participate in the opening ceremonies of the Jewish university on Mount Scopus.

WHEAT SCORES HUGE GAIN ON CHICAGO MART

CHICAGO, April 11.—Grains scored heavy gains in today's trading on the Chicago board of trade. May wheat advanced 9.14 cents from the previous close, finishing today at $1.62 1/4 a bushel. July wheat was up 8.12 cents and September gained 6 cents.

Corn gained from 4.18 to 5.18 cents while oats advanced from 11.18 to 11.38 cents.

Governor estimates of the wheat crop showing a reduced yield, and inquiries from Spain caused the upturn.

WHEAT FUTURES IN K. C. ADVANCE

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 11.—Wheat futures advanced sharply on the board of trade here today, following the government report of a smaller crop this year.

May Wheat rose to $1.55, as compared with $1.46 1/4 at the close yesterday.

Corn prices also advanced, the increase ranging from 3/4 to 3-3/4 cents.

ATTEMPT TO LOCATE MISSING STEAMER

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Efforts are being made today by the division of communications, navy department, to establish the location of the steamship Arcturus, carrying William Beebe and a group of scientists.

That the Arcturus is safe in the southern Pacific, though probably disabled, was learned when the division announced that a message had been received through the naval station at Balboa.

The message, relayed through two other ships, led to the belief that the ship is disabled. Efforts to communicate with the Arcturus from Balboa were made last night, but were unsuccessful.

ARMED MEN AT MANSION IN CHEYENNE

Outrage Against Mrs. Ross Feared By State Law Enforcement Commissioner

EXECUTIVE IS SILENT

Refuses to Answer Questions Except to Say She Did Not Ask Protection

CHEYENNE, Wyo., April 11.—Fear that "some outrage" would be perpetrated against the person or property of Gov. Nellie Taylor Ross caused a guard to be thrown around the Wyoming executive mansion last Saturday night. N. C. Wachtel, state commissioner of law enforcement, state today.

Violence, according to Wachtel, was expected to come from quarters where Governor Ross' activities against liquor and narcotic vendors have been most strongly felt. Underworld characters, who have been operating in Wyoming oil fields, are at the root of the trouble, Wachtel indicated.

Governor Ross has been guarded constantly during the last week. Investigators from state prohibition officers have guarded the executive mansion every night recently and detectives watch over her while she is at work in her office.

Plots Against Governor

"Investigators of this office," Wachtel said, "have convinced us there are plots against Governor Ross. I ordered the guard on duty against the wishes of our governor, it will be kept on the job until we have the matter in hand."

"Publication of what we are doing has destroyed our chances of accomplishing anything to a large extent," Wachtel continued. "We shall keep the men on the job at any rate."

At the office of Governor Ross, it was said she refused to take the matter seriously. Efforts to get her views were unavailing.

"I have nothing to say because I've had nothing whatever to do with it," she said.

Will Hear Misconduct Case

Governor Ross will hear charges of misconduct against Sheriff Loomis, at Cody, Wyo., April 20. Loomis has been charged by the prosecuting attorney of Park county with accepting bribes from bootleggers and owners of disorderly resorts in and near Yellowstone National Park. Under Wyoming laws, it becomes the duty of Governor Ross to investigate the charges. She will leave Monday for Cody.

The nation's first woman governor refuses to be perturbed at the strange development. She emphatically denied the guard was placed around the executive mansion at her suggestion and refused to answer when asked the reason for its presence.

The sheriff's office in Cheyenne denied somewhat wistfully that the guard was "any of their doing." Officials there have repeatedly ignored its presence.

SHEPHERD'S TRIAL WILL SOON START

CHICAGO, April 11.—Early trial for William D. Shepherd seemed assured today as both state and defense are requesting the courts to rush the case through.

Attorneys for Shepherd, who is accused of murdering his millionaire ward, Billy McClintock, admitted disappointment when the Illinois supreme court refused their appeal for habeas corpus writs which would have allowed Shepherd his freedom.

State's Attorney Robert R. Crowe is equally insistent upon an early trial.

Shepherd is to be arraigned next Thursday.

IMPORTANT AUCTION

12-Acre Orange and Walnut Grove
In Heart of the Best Orange Section in the World
2 1/2 Miles Southeast of Anaheim, California

To Be Sold at Public Auction
TUESDAY, APRIL 14th, at 2 p. m.

This grove has some incumbrance and the load is too heavy for the present owner to carry—this is why it's to be sold at public auction.
Grove has some 585 orange trees, 86 walnut trees and 90 lemon trees.

At present about 1500 boxes or approximately between $3000 to $4000 worth of fruit on trees. The walnut crop will run about four tons of nuts and this year ought to readily bring about $500 per ton, which would be $2000. The 90 lemon trees will produce around $500, or ought to this year.

THE SOIL IS A DEEP SANDY LOAM

and ideal for oranges, walnuts or lemons. Located in one of the best orange sections in Orange County. Has a good house, a lot of good ranch buildings, an abundance of water at a nominal cost.
2 1/2 Miles Southeast of Anaheim, one of the Best Towns in Southern California where it's not at all unusual to see groves sell as high as $5000 per acre. "A word to prospective buyers"—Just stop and think, buying a grove like this at Public Auction in Orange County; it's an opportunity that's going to slip by quick, as groves in this section, owing to prices that oranges will bring this year, will be in big demand and, in fact, are at present, and well informed realtors look forward to big sales in orange groves in Orange County this year.

All the equipment will be sold piece by piece, consisting of an International tractor, John Deere disc, Hardy No. 10 Mopul sprayer, with 200 feet of hose, 4-plunger pump, 4-cylinder engine with Continental motor, horse and tractor pull with it; tractor trailer, harrow, wagon with bed, plows, divider, cultivators, and a lot of miscellaneous tools used on a ranch of this kind. AND ALL OF ABOVE EQUIPMENT IS PRACTICALLY NEW.

Terms—10 per cent of purchase price day of sale. Balance—Terms announced at sale. G. L. Mennas, Agent, Buena Park. Chas. Reusch, Owner, Anaheim.

OLIVE DETOUR NECESSARY ON RIVERSIDE RUN

Residents of Santa Ana going to the Easter sunrise service at Mt. Rubidoux, Riverside, will have to detour at Olive, as usual, it was announced by A. B. Smith, assistant superintendent of county highways. The detour, however, is over paved roads.

At the same time, Smith said that reopening of the Santa Ana Canyon highway at Olive was scheduled for Saturday, April 25.

A detour has been necessary for the last two months by reason of the rebuilding of a mile and a quarter of the highway just above Olive. The improvement has been completed, but the last concrete poured on the job will not be seasoned before April 25.

The rebuilding has involved changing about 500 feet of the main canal of the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation company, relocation of the highway to eliminate curves, and building of a small section to link Jefferson street with the canyon road.

Back again to the hard realities of home, the ex-soldier faces the burden and says he is willing to pay what is required. But in view of the soldier's exemption provided by law, he hopes to escape the penalty layer of the stack of liabilities amounting to about $120, and has asked the officer to "use his good offices" with the board to have the reduction made.

Reading of the letter brought much approval of the contention of the soldier. But City Attorney Clyde Bishop, asked by Mayor Wilson what to do about it, replied that the trustees could do absolutely nothing. The law pertaining to taxes stands. The claim of the soldier falls, all because he did not think of affairs back home and apply for an exemption some years ago.

Jeankauk writes that he wrote to the authorities, but that his mail was returned to him, eventually, undelivered.

So, now in the absence of exemption affidavits the veteran, in the opinion of the attorney, based on the laws and on decisions in the courts, has nothing left but a courteous reply from City Clerk

Frank Pireto, 41, was arrested last night by Chief Criminal Deputy Ed McClellan and a number of deputy sheriffs, following a raid on his place near Los Alamitos, where it is alleged several bottles of beer were confiscated. He was lodged in the Orange county jail, charged with possession of intoxicating liquor.

Two men, said to have bought beer from Pireto last night, were caught by the officers coming from the house. They were released on their own recognizance.

No date for a preliminary hearing for Pireto has been set.

EX-SOLDIER MUST PAY OLD TAXES ALLOWED TO LAPSE; LETTER PLEA OF NO AVAIL

NEWPORT BEACH, April 11.—The best advice in the world comes of little use to a man who has been "away to the wars," if he has failed to file affidavits of service and honorable discharge and to claim tax exemptions declared by law. A most courteous and persuasive letter was received by Tax Collector J. A. Porter from J. A. Jeankauk of Santa Monica and read to the city trustees, asking for removal of tax penalties on four lots owned on the beach.

Jeankauk, it appears, was a soldier and went to the Spanish war about the time he bought the lots. He paid his taxes for a while, then he went to look after them. Then he went to the Philippines, and in 1917 was sent to France and forgot all about his property and his taxes "fighting abroad for the country and never thinking of his private property." Taxes unpaid began to pile up, penalties began to top off the pyramid, and now Jeankauk finds himself indebted to the city in the sum total of $397.

Back again to the hard realities of home, the ex-soldier faces the burden and says he is willing to pay what is required. But in view of the soldier's exemption provided by law, he hopes to escape the penalty layer of the stack of liabilities amounting to about $120, and has asked the officer to "use his good offices" with the board to have the reduction made.

Death Notices

A WORD OF COMFORT

You feel you have been carried off your feet by your grief or by the undercurrent which ensues and you hurry on to destruction.

Wait a moment; ask Him for help. Just as life seems unbearable, just as your courage is about to fail, a mighty wave of strength lays hold upon you and adds its power to yours to carry you back to safety on the beach. You take up your tasks once more, and plod forward undimmed.

PERRIN—Dorothy Edith Perrin, aged 26 years, passed away April 10. Miss Perrin is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Perrin. She was well known in educational circles, having been teacher of English in the Santa Ana high school. The body will be forwarded Monday morning by the Winthier Mission Funeral home, to Manitowish, Minn., where interment will be made.

BALDERSON—The body of Robert H. Balderson, who passed away April 8, will be forwarded to Mukwonago, Wis., by the Winthier Mission Funeral home, Tuesday, April 14, for interment. The casket will be open to friends Sunday, April 12th.

Stated meeting Santa Ana Chapter De Molay Saturday, April 11, 7:30 p. m. Installation of officers. Important business. Please be there.

Mothers' Club to Be Organized Here

Through an arrangement with the health department and the local Salvation army, it is now possible to organize a Mothers' club, purpose of which will be to meet monthly and discuss matters of interest to mothers.

The discussions will be led by Miss Woodworth, who is well and favorably known as city nurse and representative of the health department.

The first of the meetings will be held at the Salvation Army building, 214 North Sycamore street, next Wednesday at 2 o'clock. Arrangements have been made to take care of small children in an adjoining room during the meeting. Refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting.

Army Leader Will Conduct Services

Col. Charles Miles, well-known national leader in Salvation army circles, will visit Santa Ana. Colonel Miles has seen 45 years of active service, holding responsible positions in the army.

He will conduct special Easter services at the Salvation Army building, 214 North Sycamore street, at 11 a. m., 3 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. and will be assisted by Miss Neams, employed at the state prison, San Quentin, for the last 15 years. Miss Neams will sing.

Col. Miles will also be assisted by the Rev. Mr. Salmon of Los Angeles.

JAPS SCRAP SHIP

TOKYO, April 10.—Japan, in accordance with the Washington arms conference treaty, has scrapped the battleship Tosa. It was sunk with aerial bombs under the direction of Japan's "Billy Mitchell."

FLAG THIEF "IN AGAIN"

TOKYO, April 10.—Rihei Okada, who escaped a jail sentence for stealing the American flag from the embassy last July, has been arrested again charged with disorderly conduct in a questionable quarter of Tokyo.

Local Briefs

The sad news of the death of cousin, Mrs. Gladys Iven of Mason City, Iowa, was conveyed in a message yesterday to Mrs. Estella M. Wilson, 129 South Sycamore street. Mrs. Iven was survived by her husband, an 8-year-old daughter and her father, F. McElroy of Mason City who has been a frequent visitor in this city at the home of his sister, Mrs. Wilson.

Charles H. Tingley, chiropractor, has resumed his practice at 717 North Main street after a siege of illness which has kept him confined to his home for the past several weeks.

Oklahomans will hold their picnic reunion at Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles, next Saturday, April 18.

Condition of C. S. Kelley, druggist, 1211 North Broadway, who suffered a broken hip several days ago when he fell, while at the store, was slightly improved today. He is confined at his home.

H. McPhee, formerly editor and proprietor of the Santa Ana Blade, and later of the Santa Paula Chronicle, is one of the winners in the Los Angeles Times Friendship Letter contest. He took one of the $10 prizes. McPhee, who is now living at Redlands, also won first place in the Friendship Letter contest conducted by the Redlands Facts.

Miss Agnes Shambaugh, assistant in the office of county superintendent of schools, departed this morning for her home in New Burlington, O., where she will spend a month's vacation.

R. P. Mitchell, county superintendent of schools, and J. A. Cranston, city superintendent of schools, left yesterday for Santa Barbara, to attend the session of the Council of Education of the California Teachers' association.

J. L. Darragh, Pacific coast manager of Thomas Young, Inc., of New York, with headquarters at 821 Market street, San Francisco, is a guest at Hotel Santa Ana. Accompanied by Rowland Young, president of the company, he is making an inspection trip of the firm's agencies in Southern California. Darragh is a former newspaper man, having been connected with the Belfast News-Letter and other British dailies.

Failure of stockholders to attend the annual meeting of St. Ann's, incorporated, Thursday, in sufficient number to constitute a quorum, necessitated adjournment without transaction of business. Only four of the shareholders responded to the notice of the meeting at the hotel. The board of directors will hold over. They are A. J. Crookshank, W. A. Huff, John Cubbon, George Shattuck and H. J. Forgy.

HELEN KELLER TO GIVE TALK MONDAY NIGHT

Miss Helen Keller, world-renowned blind educator, will speak in Santa Ana Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium.

Announcement to this effect was made yesterday afternoon by Miss Lotta S. Rand, a representative of the American Foundation for the Blind, in the interest of which association Miss Keller is touring the country.

Miss Keller will be accompanied by Mrs. Anne Sullivan Macy, who has been with Miss Keller since childhood, first as an instructor and then as a companion.

Miss Rand yesterday conferred with representatives of the various service clubs, the women's clubs and organizations in Santa Ana. Unusual interest was manifested by those in attendance at the meeting and plans for Miss Keller to speak here quickly were formulated.

Dr. Russell to Preside

Dr. Otto Russell will preside at the lecture. Clyde Downing, president of the Knights of the Round Table, agreed to arrange for usherers for Monday night and O. L. Egge, of the Lions club, offered to outline the musical program. Mr. Egge will endeavor to get Prof. D. C. Cianfoni to furnish the talent.

Only adults will be permitted to hear the lecture. Miss Keller requests that people under 16 years of age refrain from attending, in order that there will be sufficient room to take care of the unusually large crowd that is certain to attend.

No admission will be charged, but a free will offering will be taken up following the lecture. The money will all be turned over to the American Foundation for the Blind and will be used by that organization in its work of educating the blind of the nation.

Her Career Remarkable

The seemingly impossible task of breaking the barriers having been accomplished, Miss Keller swept on to high intellectual attainments. She was graduated from Radcliffe college in 1904, and her diploma bears a Latin inscription testifying that she was "not only approved in the whole academic course, but also was excellent in English." Then followed her familiar career in philanthropy and literature.

Miss Keller speaks several languages—French and German, possibly better than she does English.

An account of the workings of the American Foundation for the Blind will be given by Miss Keller Monday. The Foundation, among other things, is conducting a research into the whole field of education and industry as it affects the blind, and in response to the urgent call of institutions throughout the country it is standardizing teaching methods along scientific lines, so that the handicap of the affliction may be overcome. New outlets are being found in manufacture and in business where the fact of blindness will not be an economic handicap. In other words, those lacking sight are endeavoring to make their work live on a parity with that of those who have vision.

EXPLAINS POINT AT ISSUE

Editor Register:—It is a mystery to readers seeking correct information how badly news gatherers can mangle the news sometimes. Of course The Register is not to blame for what is put on the wires in Independence, Mo., but someone is.

Under the heading, "Ask for Showdown in Church Fight," there are several blunders, apparently the result of pure carelessness. The general conference of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, now in session at its headquarters, Independence, Mo., is not, as reported, "calling for the reorganization of the church;" nor is there any faction headed by Walter Wayne Smith, or anyone else desiring "to be made supreme in power." Elder W. W. Smith is the local pastor at Los Angeles.

The real issue before this conference is an old one in civil and ecclesiastical government. It is one that had to be decided by the colonists when they were debating the wisdom of becoming a loose confederacy or organizing a strong central government. Another phase of it is seen today in the struggle between bureaucracy and centralized administrative control.

The discussion before this conference had its rise in the claim made by the heads of the financial department that they have discretionary control of the church finances, subordinate only to the general conference, and independent of the First Presidency and other departments, except in an advisory manner. The question to be decided is whether the administrative work of the church shall be directed by two or more independent departments or heads; or whether it shall be under a single head known as the First Presidency, who are now President Frederick M. Smith, and his two counselors, President E. A. Smith and Floyd M. McDowell. This question is before the delegates for decision.

P-T.A. MEETING PLANS PROTEST ON 'U' LOCATION

After electing certain of their officers, approximately 250 delegates to the annual convention of the Fourth District, Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teachers' associations meeting today at Seal Beach adjourned at noon with a proposed resolution, condemning the action of the board of regents of the state university in selecting Westwood as the new site for the southern branch of the school and calling for a new selection, the most important item of business facing them on the afternoon program.

Certain of the officers are elected at each convention, the others holding over. Those elected this morning follow: First vice president, Mrs. Burt Vorze, Seal Beach; third vice president, Mrs. W. M. Snow, La Habra; treasurer, Mrs. Ruby Hesson, Huntington Beach; historian, Mrs. George Goetsch, Orange; parliamentarian, Mrs. Roy S. Horton, Santa Ana.

A bill introduced in the state legislature which would require every business within 700 feet of a school building to be licensed was endorsed by the delegates at the morning session.

Speakers said that in some places pedlars are holding forth just on the outskirts of the school grounds, that oftentimes stores become places for gatherings of school children at which time the students become

Police News

Parking overtime in restricted districts of the city caused most of the cases, heard before City Recorder J. F. Talbott, in police court, yesterday. Fines meted out were as follows: Parking overtime, John Wolfert, 902 East Chestnut, $2; A. F. Smith, 208 Parion street, $2; A. F. Taunbaum, 104 East Fourth, $2. S. F. Newman, Los Angeles, cutting corner, $10; J. L. Douglas, Los Angeles, cutting corner, $10; J. E. Fezzell, Huntington Beach, parking in two stalls, $2; J. Carter, Delhi, allowing motor to run unattended, $2; Tyroce Brothers Glass company, Los Angeles, parking in alley, $3.

Harvey Rios, charged with possession of intoxicating liquor, was fined $50 in City Recorder J. F. Talbott's court yesterday. Rice was one of the victims of the county-wide liquor raids last November and his is the last case to be disposed of by the city.

Alvin Stauffer, 402 South Garnsey street, reported to police last night theft of a bicycle.

An automobile belonging to Lillian M. Wollaston, 642 North Ross street, was reported stolen last night. The car was parked at the intersection of Seventh and Bush streets. Police were given a description of the automobile.

A proper regulation of such places would do much to eliminate the evil, it was declared. This afternoon the session was also to select delegates to the state convention of the organization to be held in Fresno.

INVITE PUBLIC TO INSPECT BUILDING

Opening of the new Musselman building, at the southwest corner of Fourth and French streets, will take place tonight. It was announced today by Frank Musselman, owner.

The structure is a combination store and hotel affair. It is of brick construction and contains all the latest and modern appliances.

Musselman this morning issued an invitation for the general public to inspect the building. The cafe in the building, owned by George Demetrius, will also be open for inspection.

SERVICES ARE PLANNED FOR EASTER MORN

Sunrise Easter services Sunday in various parts of the Southland are expected to draw thousands of men and women. Churches of Santa Ana and Orange will hold joint undenominational services on Lemon Heights, starting at 5:30 o'clock.

At Fullerton, Laguna Beach, Huntington Beach, Mt. Rubidoux, San Juan Capistrano, and other places, thousands of pilgrims will gather to do homage.

With the first approach of the sun, will begin the devout and reverent ceremonies. Majority of the sunrise services will be undenominational.

Orange Pastor to Preach The Rev. Harry O. Hill, pastor of the First Christian church, of Orange, will deliver the sermon at the union services of Santa Ana and Orange churches. His subject will be "The Glorious Resurrection."

Percy Bowne, Santa Ana, will sing "Savior, Thy Undying Love." Captain Nock, of the Salvation Army, will play on his cornet.

The Easter sunrise services on Lemon Heights, an annual event, draw thousands of people from all parts of the county, as well as from other places.

The program was arranged by the Santa Ana Ministerial association, with the Rev. G. A. Stierle, pastor of the Zion Evangelical church, as chairman.

The churches of Fullerton have arranged to hold their sunrise services on Hillcrest, north of the high school. The gathering is sponsored by the various churches of Fullerton. The Kiwanis club of that city has agreed to furnish automobile transportation to all who desire to attend the services. The cars will be stationed at the California hotel, Ford school and at Chapman and Harvard streets.

At Temple Hills Park Temple Hills park will be the scene of the Laguna Beach sunrise gathering. The services will start promptly at 5:30 o'clock at the cross in the grove. The Rev. A. H. Burkholder, pastor of the Community church, with the Rev. A. H. White, pastor of the Methodist church, assisting, will conduct the meeting.

At Huntington Beach, the services will take place at the end of the municipal pier. A large cross, beautifully decorated, has been made by the Boy Scouts for the event. The Rev. S. J. Roberts, pastor of the Methodist church, will preach the sermon.

Residents of Balboa and Newport Beach will hold their sunrise services in the Newport Beach schoolhouse. The Rev. Grover Ralston, pastor of the Newport Methodist church, and the Rev. J. H. Engle, Costa Mesa Community church, will officiate at the devotional services.

At Mt. Rubidoux Because of the large number of persons who are expected to attend the services atop Mt. Rubidoux, Riverside, the road to the mountain will be closed to automobiles. An elaborate musical program has been arranged. A special Pacific Electric train will be run from Los Angeles to Riverside. Klansmen of the San Gabriel and Pomona valleys have arranged for a sunrise service at the Blackwood ranch, in the hills south of Glendora. A huge electrically lighted cross will be mounted on one of the hills tonight at 10 o'clock and will be kept lighted all night.

A special Easter program, which will include Massene's Passion Play concert, will be held in the mission at San Juan Capistrano Sunday afternoon.

Letters Like This Prove the Reliability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Turtle Lake, Wisconsin. — "I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weakness, backache and nervousness. I had these troubles for years and had taken other medicines for them, but I have found no medicine so good as the Vegetable Compound and I recommend it to my friends who have troubles similar to mine. I saw it advertised and thought I would try it and it has helped me in all my troubles. I have had six children and I have taken the Lydia E. Pinkham Vegetable Compound before each one was born, for weakness, vomiting, poor appetite and backache, and again after childbirth because of dizzy headaches. It is a good medicine for it always helps me. I have also taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills for the last eight years for constipation." — Mrs. MABEL LA POINT, R.F.D. Eighty Years of Easter Fashions—We Vote for 1925

WHAT A CHANGE fourscore years have brought in the Easter fashions of Milady!

The modern girl is often the center of carping criticism because of her clothes, and yet one glimpse at the pictures above causes us to vote for Miss 1925.

She seems more attractive, more girlishly feminine, more charming than her sisters of the past.

There is less of the freak styles in this year's Easter fashion parade than ever before.

Easter Luncheon For Friendly Folk of Ebell Section

Entertained by Mrs. C. L. Johnson, Mrs. James C. Clark and Mrs. Clyde Bach, the members and a small guest group of Ebell's fourth Household Economics section yesterday enjoyed a particularly spring-like luncheon and afternoon program at the clubhouse.

All table appointments were of the sunniest of yellow with wee Easter rabbits adorning the place cards, California poppies smiling on the tables and repeated petals of nut-cups and at intervals, nests of bright-colored Easter eggs and funny little chickens to emphasize the Easter motif.

Noodle soup, creamed chicken with hot biscuits and kindred delicacies were served ending with a delicious mocha cake and an Easter ice.

Assembling in the lounge with its baskets of vari-colored sweets, the members enjoyed a friendly chat before the business session and program. Mrs. O. A. Haley, leader, opened with announcement of election of officers and was honored by being named and re-elected leader by acclamation. The method proved so speedy and so successful that the remaining officers were named the same way. At the next year's staff to be Mrs. Haley, leader; Mrs. Charles Mitchell, vice-leader; Mrs. E. L. Peacock, secretary; Mrs. Earl Matthews, treasurer; Mrs. E. U. Dickinson, reporter. Committees named by the leader were flower, Mrs. S. J. Hales, Mrs. C. G. Chapman, Mrs. F. E. Coulter; program, Mrs. Clyde Bach, Mrs. Verne Whitson, Mrs. Mary Thompson.

Mrs. Preble's name was announced as a new member after which Mrs. W. H. Harrison, Ebell curator and honor guest, spoke a few words expressive of her enjoyment of the section's hospitality. Other guests, Mrs. Harry Lambert and Mrs. Eleanor Elliott, also gave brief talks.

Roll call was answered with a confession of hobbies after which Mrs. James A. Tarpley gave a most interesting talk on "Landscape Gardening." Her paper showed a great deal of research and offered much food for thought to the members who were told that America is sadly lacking in any concerted attempt to beautify the home surroundings, in comparison with Europe. Mrs. Tarpley declared that to a traveler, there was a constant sense of beauty and completion in Europe and the lack of it in this country but that much more interest was being manifested every year and the time was coming when our scenic splendors would be no more noted than our beautifully landscaped home grounds.

Introduction of landscape gardening has been only in comparatively recent centuries in Europe, she declared and stated that "Beauty pays by giving pleasure to those that see it."

In anticipation of the section's entertaining at tea on Monday afternoon, May 11, Mrs. Haley as hostess named her committees consisting of Mrs. Charles Johnson, Mrs. Fred Bomboy and Mrs. George Richardson as co-hostesses with herself; Mesdames T. D. Knights, James C. Clark, E. G. Bruns, F. E. Russell, W. D. King and F. E. Coulter, tea committee; Mesdames W. V. Whitson, Elmer Bowers, G. H. Goodwin, Edward C. Erwin, prize committee; Mesdames E. U. Dickinson, James A. Tarpley, Charles Mitchell, Earl Matthews and Norbert Lentz, entertainment committee; Mesdames C. H. Lurker, Chapman, Bach, Hales, Peacock and Miss Thompson, card tables.

The next meeting of the section will be at the Newport Beach cottage of Mrs. Tarpley with Mrs. Hales and Mrs. Bruns as co-hostesses. Those wishing to swim will go early in the forenoon and drivers of automobiles will form little parties so that all members will

Ebell Tea to Have Interesting Exhibit

Delighted with the response to their suggestion that Ebell members display bags, lampshades and rugs of their own or their friends' fashioning, Mrs. William L. Deimling, hostess for the Monday afternoon tea at Ebell clubhouse and her general committee chairman, Mrs. W. H. DeWolfe, today promised one of the most interesting exhibits imaginable in connection with the social features of the afternoon.

That the guests may have ample time to view the many handsome articles, the doors of the clubhouse will be opened at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon, giving a full hour before the program of cards for those who wish to see everything.

The arrangement will add to the decorative effect for the affair since the lampshades will be displayed on standards arranged throughout the rooms rather than confined to one space. Thus the card players in the banquet room and those who choose needlework in the lounge, will all follow their chosen pursuits in the soft rays of light falling through the handsome lampshades in the city. Generous merchants have donated the use of particularly handsome lamp standards for the occasion.

Card players and "Frisco" will be gathered together by a common bond at the tea hour and at the entertainment hour preceding it when Miss Leonora Tompkins, leader of the Music section will present a pleasing program featuring both vocal and clarinet solos. Miss Louise Montgomery, a favorite Ebell entertainer and Mrs. Burton will sing and Lyne Roberts will give clarinet numbers.

Book Review Club

"A Shelf of Fiction" is the intriguing theme announced for Mrs. Frances Neill's talk next Tuesday night at the Book Review club in the Neill home. The club members will assemble at the usual hour of 7:45, to be greeted by Mr. and Mrs. Neill at their home on Glenn avenue, Tustin.

Mrs. Neill is assistant librarian at Polytechnic High school and her talk will review a half dozen of the more recent books of fiction.

Back to Schooldays For Members of Friendly Club

In a home lovely with massed spring blossoms, Mrs. Frank Christian entertained the members of the Recreation club and a few guests in charming fashion yesterday afternoon. While sewing occupied a prominent place in the entertainment, a number of guests were introduced, among the most interesting being the school session when everybody went back to little girlhood and the "dearest skule." Mrs. Gerrard, Mrs. Nell, Miss Carswell and Mrs. Gambill were judged to be the most proficient pupils and were generously rewarded with bars of ivory soap.

At 5 o'clock Mrs. Christian assisted by Mrs. A. A. Wyatt, served a delectable refreshment menu of three courses with the Easter motif predominating. Enjoying her hospitality were the members of the Recreation club, Mesdames Hugh Gerrard, A. F. Crumrine, F. A. Plum, R. L. Gambill, C. J. Neal, C. J. Hill, F. O. Pierce, G. E. Latimer, Clyde Gales, Miss Margaret Carswell and a guest group composed of Mrs. A. A. Wyatt, Mrs. Soth Bullock and Mrs. Martin S. Lewis.

Relief Corps Is Entertained by Auxiliary Group

One hundred members of the Women's Relief Corps and Calumet auxiliary enjoyed a tea in the G. A. R. hall yesterday afternoon. The program, which was arranged by Mrs. Nannie Reed, president of the auxiliary, was as follows:

Opening song, "America," by assemblage; piano solo, Miss Myrtle Schafer; reading, Grace Marcher; monologue, Maryanna Deaver; piano solo, Julia Nisser; vocal solo, Mrs. Freida Barger; impersonation, Bertha Dixon; reading, Murel Pope; piano solo, Miss Moose; reading, Maryanna Deaver.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the program, which was voted one of the most entertaining ever presented in the G. A. R. hall.

Teachers Enjoy Tour of Southland

The charms of San Diego, El Centro and even the Arizona city of Yuma were thoroughly explored by a little party of school teachers from Julia Lathrop Junior High and Polytechnic High schools who shared a motor trip as an event of vacation week.

The group left immediately after the final session of school on Friday April 3, going to San Diego. They returned from their "swing around the circle" yesterday enthusiastic over the joys of motoring over Southland roads through a Southland spring. In the party were Miss Hazel Thrasher, Miss Lela Thrasher, Miss Mary Henderson, Miss Florence Kline, Miss Birdena Anderson, Miss Abby Chapman and Mrs. Ethel Sinke.

Women students are not admitted on the same plane with men in any Japanese college, except in those institutions established especially for women.

The two largest colleges for women in America, Wellesley and Smith, celebrate their semi-centennial this year. Both founded in 1875, it is a coincidence that their founders should have had the same surname, the good old name of Smith.

Second Anniversary Of P. P. Club Is Celebrated

Celebrating their second anniversary, the members of the Past Presidents' club of the Daughters of Veterans enjoyed a luncheon and social afternoon yesterday at the home of Mrs. Maurice Phillips, 413 Cypress avenue.

Bowls and baskets of lovely spring flowers filled the rooms, pink sweet peas and forget-me-nots predominating. In the center of the long table where luncheon was served, was a gay Easter basket in which nestled an Easter bunny. Tall candles in brown candlesticks stood on each side of the basket and candy eggs were scattered over the surface of the table. Favors were columbines in tiny pots masked in pink crepe paper. A delectable chicken menu was served, the final course offering a birthday cake in honor of the anniversary.

In the after-luncheon session, those spending an enjoyable afternoon with Mrs. Phillips were Mesdames Leonore Ward, Eva Bell, Margaret Robertson, Mae Thomas, Elizabeth Adams, Carrie Smith, Louane Leech, Emma Chapman, Harriet Leipsic, Nellie Parker and Nina June Robertson, the club's mascot.

W. C. T. U.

The regular monthly meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held Tuesday, April 14 at 2:30 p. m. in the First Presbyterian church. The program will be in charge of Mrs. N. H. Leonard who offers as one of the attractive features, vocal numbers by Harry Shields, the singing evangelist who is now at the Christian church.

Lady Richmond Brown, whose hobby is exploration, has obtained a twenty years' lease on 70,000 acres of land in British Honduras where on a previous visit to Central America she discovered the ruins of a Mayan city believed to date back to three thousand years before the Christian era. Lady Brown believes that excavation will reveal vast hoards of gold, silver, and precious stones.

Easter Message

(An Open Letter to the Ladies)

Undoubtedly your new frock, in the season's most favored style and color, with hat, hose and footwear to harmonize, is in readiness for the "Fashion Parade" on Easter morn.

What pleasure is experienced with the donning of new and beautiful garments. How proud he will be to see you immaculately adorned, in the bloom of Easter radiance.

Will he, too, be well groomed when accompanying you on the stroll—or to services—or the social call—or your favorite dining place?

Men take their cue from those for whom they care most—mother, wife, daughter or sweetheart. See that your escort's appearance enhances and compliments your own.

Insist that he, too, be immaculately attired on Easter morn. There need be no excuse as our store will remain open tonight until nine o'clock to care for tardy men's Easter wants.

"WOMEN MEN MARRY" AT TEMPLE TONIGHT

When Edward Dillon's "Women Men Marry" is presented on the screen of the Temple theater for a limited engagement beginning tonight followers of the movies will see an assemblage of players who for their individual excellence and particular fitness for the roles they play have never been equaled.

Among the names which the cast of this picture boasts are E.

K. Lincoln, Florence Dixon, Julia Swayne Gordon, Cyril Chadwick and Maude Turner Gordon.

E. K. Lincoln has been so long and favorably known to the film follower that he needs no word of endorsement. His long record of successes has been eclipsed by his work in "Women Men Marry."

Florence Dixon is a name which has glittered brilliantly from many on electric sign along the Great White Way. Perfectly cast and superbly directed by Dillon, she gives a performance of high dramatic force and discrimination.

Hedda Hopper, who in private life is Mrs. De Wolf Hopper, plays the role of a languishing beauty who bonds every energy to the arduous task of climbing the social ladder.

Cyril Chadwick, who will be remembered for his work in the stage presentation of "Three Live Ghosts" and other Broadway spoken plays, maintains his high reputation as the foremost character actor in the United States.

"THE MIRAGE" AT YOST THEATER SUNDAY

The Sunday attraction at the Yost theater is the picture of Edgar Selwyn's well known stage play, "The Mirage." This production, starring Florence Vidor, finds that lovely player in a role much different than any she has before essayed.

As Irene Martin, a small town singer, she comes to New York to make her way to fame, joins a show, and gets mixed up with a crowd of "gold diggers" and a typical New York first-nighter, who hires her as a professional entertainer to amuse his guests after the show. In this role Miss Vidor gives us a startling characterization, but keeps that inimitable dignity and sweetness of hers in the offing through it all.

Alan Roscoe gives a splendid performance of the sweetheart from back home, who is found wanting in faith when it looks as though the girl is travelling the wrong path.

Credit is also due Viola Vale as Betty Bond, the chorus girl who inaugurates Irene Martin into the ways of the gold digger.

Myrtle Vane, as Irene's mother and Charlotte Stevens as the little sister.

5 VAUDEVILLE ACT ON YOST BILL SUNDAY

Five acts of vaudeville will be presented at the Yost theater Sunday and Monday. A resume of the program follows:

Wilbur and Lyke present a novel offering titled "The Bouncing Boy" which lives up to its billing in every respect. An instrument little known to the American public is a trampoline which is merely a square frame at the top of which is placed a net tied on by heavy rubber bands. The result has exceptional buoyancy possibilities and if one is sufficiently adept at bouncing, leaps of fifteen, twenty or more feet are easily attained.

There have been ventriloquists and ventriloquists who have entertained the public for years, but George Coleman goes them all one better and introduces novelties galore during the course of his act.

Aptly billed as "A Night in Venice," the Venetian Four entertains audiences with music such as only the true Italians are used to hearing. They play upon the accordion, harp, violin, with equal skill and the result is marvelous harmony and excellent music.

Hokum, what every American loves, is liberally disposed of in the vaudeville skit of Vanfield and D'Merg. They have comedy gags which are sure fire side splitters and never fail to panic an audience.

Frank Ward, in his offering, presents a monologue which is both entertaining and educational. According to Ward, the entire world is crazy. He is a good looking young fellow with a pleasing personality and keeps him material up to the minute.

FRED THOMSON FILM AA

WALKER'S SUNDAY
The New York Telegraph says of "That Devil Quemado," tomorrow's attraction at Walker's:

"A far better Western than the most. Almost a special. Fred Thomson and 'Silver King,' his horse, in a romantic tale of the Rio Grande. A very good box office attraction, and good for any first-run account."

According to the publicity department of F. B. O. this picture was originally bought by Douglas Fairbanks for his personal use, and later sold to the Film Booking offices for Fred Thomson. Exhibitors may say it is good enough for Doug it surely is sufficient for
Thomson, and that is quite true.
Thomson, in this writer's opinion, couldn't have appeared in a nicer story, nor could he have done any better acting.

"That Devil Quemado" has a stirring plot, red-blooded adventure, human interest and a love theme that will carry it far in box office annals. It is absolutely an interesting picture, sets are sumptuous and the exteriors are beautiful. Thomson and "Silver King" are in more adventures, athletic and otherwise, to the single reel, than any two-team workers your reviewer has seen.

COLLEEN MOORE IN "SALLY" AT WEST END

Colleen Moore has said good-bye to "Sally."

The final scenes of this, her newest starring vehicle, have been completed. The picture will be shown at the West End theater next week. It opens tomorrow.

"Sally" was adapted from the noted Ziegfeld hit of the same name and enacted before the camera by a cast of more than ordinary excellence. As "Sally," Colleen Moore is declared to have eclipsed any role she has portrayed in the past. Her "Sally" is fraught with originality, charm and hoydenish humor.

Chief in her support is Lloyd Hughes, playing the foster son of a multi-millionaire, who first meets
"Sally" when she is an inmate of an East Side Foundling Asylum.
Patsy links the lives of the two and carries them through the vicissitudes of struggle to final success and happiness.

Leon Errol, who created that inimitable comedy role, the Duke of Checkergovinia, in the original stage version, appears in the film version in the same character. Other important players are: Myrtle
Stedman, John T. Murray, Ray
Hallor, Eva Novak, Dan Mason,
Carlo Schipa, E. H. Calvert and Louise Beudet.

STILL THINKS 'PADDLING' IS EFFECTIVE IF WARNING FAILS

Auto Editor Finds Many Parents Disagree With Spanking Suggestions

QUOTES OPINIONS OF NEW YORK PROFESSOR

Sociologist Scorns Modern Tendency to Spare Rod; Sees Many Spoiled

By HORACE FINE

(Automobile Editor of Register)

"Spanking babies" is not an "indoor sport" in some homes. This I have learned very forcefully since my comment a few days ago on the value of a "spanking" in impressing upon the minds of children the necessity of obedience to their elders who caution them against running alone across a street ahead of an automobile.

Any number of mothers have called on me to comment on the suggestion I made, and I must confess that opinion was about evenly divided between the mothers who believe spanking is the wrong method of correction and those who believe that it is the only way to make a lasting impression on the mind of a little one.

Some of those who have discussed the subject with me have declared that the temperament of a child should control in the method of correction. I have no disagreement with that idea. It is true, undoubtedly. There are children who can better be controlled by a good heart-to-heart talk than with a "rod." But at the same time, when a child of that type fails to be impressed with a talk on the danger of crossing a street alone, I believe a "paddling" will be most effective in getting over the "warning."

Believes Course Justified
I probably am drifting a little far afield in discussing the subject of spanking in a column where automobile subjects are supposed to be discussed, but in the light of discussions on my original article on the subject, I am justified in the discourse.

It is more or less consoling to know that Dr. Rudolph M. Binder, professor of sociology at New York university, agrees with me in my contention that in this day and age too many children are being spoiled by parents who do not believe in wielding the "slipper."

"Spank your children if you want them to grow up in the way they should go," is the ad-

WHOS WHO in MOTORDOM

HARVEY H. TRAVELLER

The subject of today's cartoon, depicting youth and energy, is Harvey H. Traveller, one of the liveliest wires in the automotive industry of Orange county. Harvey, as he is known to his countless friends and acquaintances, is a native of Illinois, but came to Santa Ana eight years ago after spending some time in Colorado, where he attended school.

Shortly after coming to this city, Traveller became associated with his father in the distribution of Oldfield tires and ever since he has been connected with the auto game in executive positions.

About 60 days ago, he was appointed sales manager for the R. W. Townsend Motor company, local dealers for the Hudson and Essex. He is a natural salesman and has a long record of sales success. His splendid ability in closing deals makes him a valuable asset in his present position. His genial, cheery disposition has made him one of the best known and most popular men in the industry in Orange county. His reputation for absolute square dealing has also been a large factor in his success.

According to Traveller, Santa Ana is the ideal spot in the world. He has unlimited faith in the future progress of this city and is proving this by the fact that he is now completing a beautiful 7-room stucco house in North Broadway park. The home is built in the charming style of architecture and is one of the most cleverly arranged places in the city.

Traveller's hobby is horse racing and he is a lover of fine horses and also fine dogs, having one of the most perfect police dogs in Southern California.

NASH SPECIAL SIX, FOUR DOOR SEDAN IS HERE

May Motor Company Has New Model on Display At Local Salesrooms

The May Motor company, Nash dealers, today had received a model of the long anticipated 4-door sedan on the Nash Special Six chassis. Handsome in appearance and luxuriously appointed, the new sedan will sell here for $1810. The model was received and placed on exhibition in the agency sales room today.

"The Special Six sedan was designed and built for that large field of buyers who appreciate and prefer everything in the way of appearance and luxury found usually in cars of higher price and larger size," W. C. May, of the dealer company, said. "The new sedan embodies all of this. Its wheel base is 112 1-2 inches, and those who have seen the car are agreed that it is one of the most attractive models in the Nash line."

"The body is low and gracefully moulded with full rounded lines at the back; the doors are wide and the seats are deep and restful. The upholstery and trim being in dark blue mohair velvet and arm rests are provided in the rear compartment."

"In fact every detail of the fittings and appointments is in thorough keeping with the good taste which distinguishes Nash built enclosed cars. The silver-finished hardware, including door handles, window lifts and dome light, are supplemented by a handsome vanity case and smoking set. Other equipment includes a heater, silken window curtains, windshield wiper, rear-view mirror and other details that add to the convenience and comfort of the passengers."

"The standard equipment includes 4-wheel brakes, full balloon tires and five disc wheels. The car is powered with the Nash perfected valve-in-head motor."

Ten Made Ill by Poison In Cake

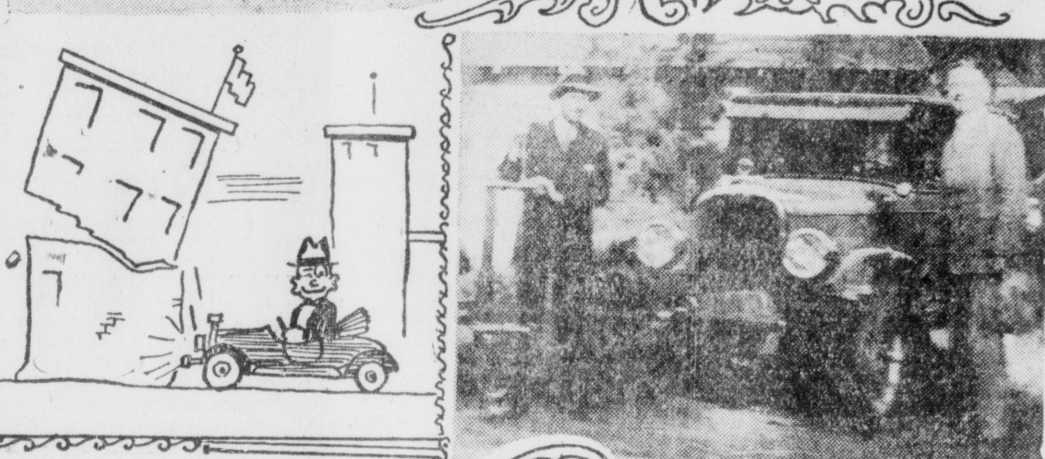

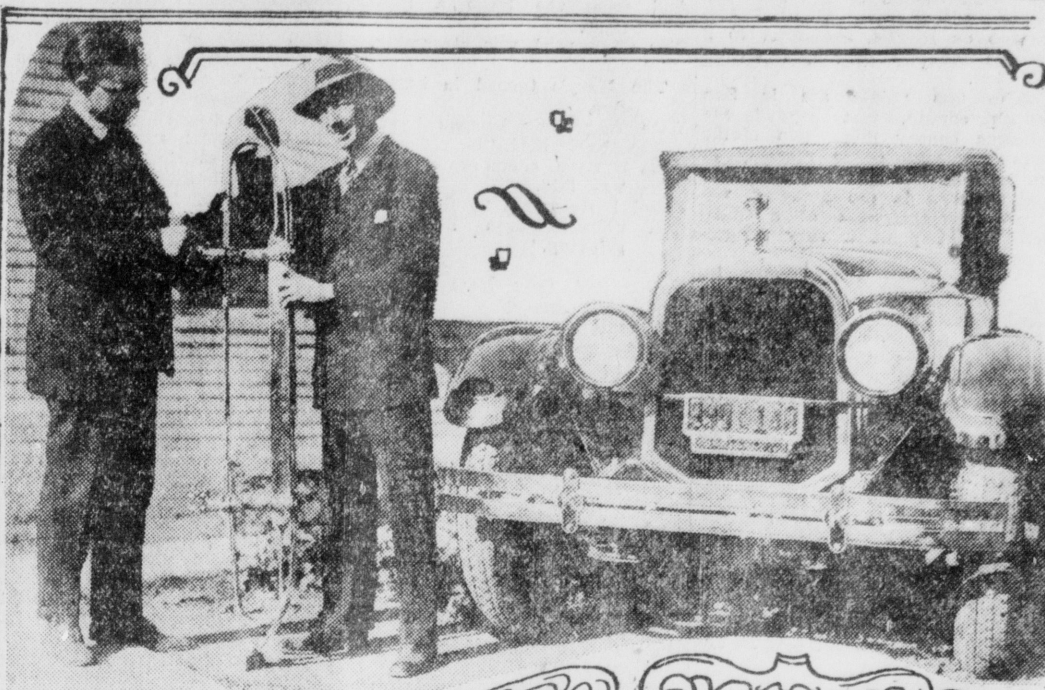

SAN JOSE, Calif., April 10.—Three out of a family of 10 persons were seriously ill today after eating a cake Sunday night that contained arsenate of lead. They are expected to recover.

The cake was baked by Marie, 10-year-old daughter of Joseph Santos, and was eaten by the family. Shortly after the meal, all were taken violently ill. Aid was summoned from neighbors.

Investigation disclosed that Marie had used arsenate of lead, used for spraying, contained in a baking powder can, without any label to indicate its poisonous nature. Three heaping tablespoons of the poison went into the cake.

COMEDIAN EXTOLS LOCAL MADE BUMPER

The merits of the Chandler Roadster and the efficiency of the Kaufman bumper, manufactured here by Kaufman and Sons, today were being extolled to movie stars in Hollywood and Los Angeles by Lee Moran, comedian with the Fox film corporation. Purchasing a Chandler roadster from Fred Medbery, one of the Kaufman bumpers, the triple shock absorber developed by the local manufacturing concern. In the upper picture, Carl Kaufman (left) is pointing out to Moran the piece of rubber in the Kaufman bumper that adds to the efficiency of the equipment. The car is Moran's Chandler roadster. Enlarges Stock Room to Handle Tire Business

Owing to the steadily increasing demand for C. T. C. tires, Harry D. Riley, of Anaheim, county distributor, has found it necessary to make additions to his stock room according to C. M. Hapeman, manager of tire sales.

"The new stock room is being arranged to permit only a certain amount of light and will be devoid of any windows, as it is a known fact tire stocks should be kept in a dark, cool place to insure the user of every mile of service built into them," Hapeman said. "Dealer stocks are also carefully checked, to not allow any dealer to be overstocked, thereby insuring a quick turnover of new tires and tubes."

"Hardly a day passes but what we receive a favorable report on mileage rendered by C. T. C. tires and many users claim that C. T. C. cords show less wear at 15,000 miles than the average competitive tire at 5000 miles."

URGE DRIVERS TO WATCH FOR SIGNS

Watch the signs!
This brief but pointed suggestion is offered by the Automobile Club of Southern California in view of the large number of excuses being given by arrested drivers that they did not see any warning. The club advises that all drivers get the sign-reading habit.

Ignorance of road signs is in the same category as ignorance of the law, when a driver is haled into court. It should be borne in mind, suggests the auto club, that signs are not placed merely to give the signposting crew exercise, but each has a definite function. Thousands of arrests would be averted if drivers would acquire the habit of noticing caution signs. Every month adds to the number, and unless the practice of observance is acquired by drivers, they not only lay themselves liable to arrest frequently, but to accident, through failure to observe warnings.

Has Appliance Fitted to Chandler Roadster Bought Here

Fred Medbery, Santa Ana dealer for the Chandler and Cleveland, today had broken into the "movie world" in Hollywood and Los Angeles, by selling his personal friend, Lee Moran, comedian with the Fox film corporation, a Chandler roadster. Medbery says that, while friendship had something to do with the car sale to the comedian, it was not the important feature. The demonstration of Chandler stamina by a 1000-mile grind on a track in Los Angeles recently, had its influence, Medbery said.

And while Moran was here getting his new car, he decided to have one of the high-class bumpers manufactured by Kaufman and Sons installed. And he now is a booster for the Santa Ana products, and anticipates inducing many of his screen friends to install the same equipment.

The comedian also was interested in the new Cleveland sedan model just put out by the Cleveland Motor company. The first showing of this model on the Pacific coast was made on the closing day of the annual Santa Ana Automobile show, the sedan arriving just in time to be placed in the Medbery exhibit for one day.

"Graceful lines, real elegance, surprising snap, power and beauty found in this sedan make it the sensation of the day in cars of its price class," Medbery said. "It is a combination of Europe's trim compactness with America's elegance and power. It is an engineering prodigy so outstanding that it can be offered to the American public at a figure never before thought possible in the field of quality-built cars."

"In this unusual creation, Cleveland engineers presented the first really successful American effort to substitute extra refinement and extra quality for additional weight that is not needed, and bulk which is never used. Through their success, they have effected a distinct saving in fuel cost and general upkeep, and, most significant of all, they have gained a margin of power and motor flexibility."

Human Body Is Made of Glue, Scientists Say

BALTIMORE, Md., April 10.—Man is glue.
Scientists attending the 69th session of the American Chemical society at Johns Hopkins university, heard the definition of the average person today and solemnly agreed. The human body is a colloid in the class with mullae and rubber, a chemist explained.

Dr. H. L. Fisher, former Columbia professor, took a leading part in the discussion of colloidal chemistry, at which it was decided to rank humanity the most important colloid.

Warn Drivers To Give Right Signal

The driver making a wrong signal not only invites tragedy for himself, but threatens other cars on the road, according to investigations of the legal department of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Every driver should use the utmost care in making signals accurate and easily discernible.

Slipshod, indifferent signalling confuses those behind the car about to turn or stop. Improper signalling has caused many a costly accident.

GETS DETAILS OF AIRPLANES BUILT BY FORD

Airplanes built by the Ford Motor company for individual use and at a price that will put them within reach of the average man, is visioned by George Dunton, local Ford dealer, as the result of receipt here today of a detailed description of the Stout Air Pullman, an all-metal plane, now being manufactured by the Stout Metal Airplane company, with the assistance of the Ford Motor company. The plane, it is said by Dunton, is being built at a cost of $25,000, and will carry seven passengers. It is a pilot-cabin transport designed for airline work, with a tank capacity for six hours' fuel. The major items of design were laid out for the most possible hours per day in the air, with all assemblies and units so arranged that they may be instantly inspected and quickly replaced.

"Built strictly for the earning of dividends through the carrying of loads through the air, safety has naturally been made the fundamental of the design," Dunton said. "While greater strength has been given to this machine than any previous transport plane, yet it is 700 pounds lighter than its nearest competitor in wood and cloth. It has a spacious cabin, muffled engine, housed in pilot, and extreme vision. It is ideal for either passenger or freight work."

"The size of plane has been chosen to fit the greatest range of commercial use, and the widest plan of operation fields possible with things as they are, and not as they will be or should be. The main cabin is equipped with six deep upholstered seats and with plenty of leg room for the tallest of passengers. At the front of the cabin in plain vision of all passengers is an air speed indicator and altimeter."

"In its aerodynamic layout the plane also resembles in some features the Fokker transcontinental plane, but does not at all resemble it in structure. The Fokker plane is of wood veneer and steel tubing with cloth covering and 1200 pounds heavier than the Stout product, which is all-metal. This plane is also said to be 40 miles an hour faster than the Fokker transcontinental job with the same engine."

"The plane is of the long tail type with an adjustable stabilizer and counterbalanced rudder. The wing is of tapered section double convex and of high speed variety. The wing unit is divided into three sections; the center part of which is fastened down on the fuselage by six large bolts to the three main spars. The two tips are detachable for shipping and transportation purposes or for replacement in case of damage."

"A wing of really thick section is used, the main spar being almost three feet deep on a chord of trifle over 12 feet at the center. The fuselage hangs below these wings, and it fitted with semi-circular windows, which swing on a pivot to give one an unusual view in the air. There is nothing to obstruct perfect vision, the wing being above, and one can look across country clear to the horizon with the wing above shading him from the direct rays of the sun. Even the pilots have perfect vision in every direction except up and to the rear, but they can see the horizon in every direction, can see their own landing gear, and practically every part of the plane from the pilot's seats."

"The engine installation is very exceptional and every part more accessible than in any other installation I have seen. The base of the engine mount fastens to the fuselage in extra wide, giving great rigidity to the installation and at the same time placing the structural work far enough from the engine itself so that one can reach in and get at everything."

"The engine is a standard Liberty 40-horsepower, but fitted with a new intake manifold which is the latest development of the air service."

"The shock absorber cords are arranged outside the planes on either side at the top of the chassis tube, and work with a sliding guide plate."

"This plane is particularly designed with reference to the carrying of air mail along with express matter, a spacious compartment for mail being provided. With a load of one ton the plane will make approximately 5 miles per gallon. The wing load on the wing is about 9 pounds and the power load 14, so that the actual performance can well be gauged by those who know design."

SAYS KIDDIES MUST BE TOLD ABOUT PERILS OF BOULEVARD

Recent Fatality Stresses Necessity For Warning, Auto Editor Asserts

ACCIDENT IS OBJECT LESSON TO PARENTS

Country Roads No More Safe Than City Streets, It is Pointed Out

By HORACE FINE

(Automobile Editor of Register)

The accidental killing of Junior Brown, 5-year-old boy, near Cypress, on Tuesday afternoon, is just another incident pointing to the fact that a highway is a dangerous place for children to walk. And when they play while walking, the highway is doubly dangerous. No road is a safe place for children to play—and parents cannot go too far in impressing this on their offspring.

Benjamin Funcheon, of Balboa, was the driver of the car which struck the lad. No one who knows Funcheon will doubt for a minute that the accident was entirely the fault of the boy. No one will doubt the driver did everything in his power to avoid injury to the lad.

Throwing Rocks at Cars
According to the report filed with the sheriff's office here by Funcheon, immediately following the accident, the Brown boy and two companions were walking along the road and were engaged in what they thought to be fun—throwing rocks at passing automobiles.

There is the story of the cause of the fatality—and it points to the necessity of parents incessantly preaching to their children the dangers of the highway. It points to the necessity, also, of parents warning their offspring to stay off the highways, and, above all, not to play.

The dead lad and his companions were doing nothing more than hundreds of other children are doing. It is not an uncommon occurrence to see groups of children, playing along the road—and it is not uncommon to meet boys who throw rocks at passing cars.

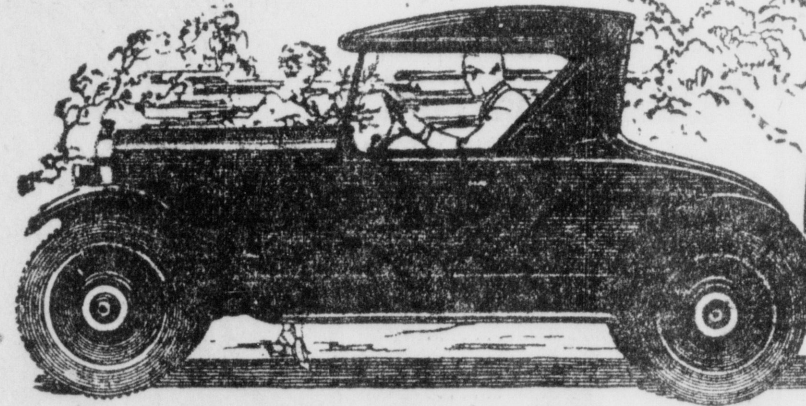

In the death of the Brown boy, there is a lesson for all parents—but will they heed? Ten chances to one they will not. They were impressed, no doubt, when the news of the accident was first related. Many probably have forgotten by this time, and never will think of it again until a similar occurrence horrifies them, and then they will soon forget the second, and their kiddies will go on exposing themselves to the dangers of heavy automobile traffic.

Country Roads No Safe
Country roads are no safer for children than are city streets. In sparsely settled rural districts, traffic is not as heavy as on highways that traverse thickly populated sections, but there is danger just the same.

"Familiarity breeds contempt," and children who play on and along paved roads in sections where the traffic is light are cultivating a

Oakland Six has more power than you will ever need. Best of all, it does not derive this power from an oversized engine nor from an extravagant use of gasoline. It is more powerful than engines of similar size because of its correct design. Made to standards as exact as those of the finest aeroplane motors, it is a true reflection of the intensified engineering that characterizes every detail of Oakland construction. Find out what Oakland power means. Here is our invitation. Take the car out where the going is hardest and where the grades are tough and steep. Make your own tests in your own way. Then you will know. Learn also how easy and convenient it is to purchase an Oakland Six on the liberal General Motors Time Payment Plan.

Fascist Slayings Cause of Concern

BOLOGNE, Italy, April 13.—The murder of three members of the party is causing great concern among Fascists here. Several unidentified men attacked ed a railroad men's club and beat to death a porter named Rosalindo Hornini, father of six children. Other members of the club were wounded. The assailants escaped. Signors Volterra and Ghinassi, also Fascists, were shot and killed while walking in the street here. A widely known Communist was reported to have led the slayers.

NEW WORK WILL ELIMINATE TWO DEATH CURVES

Sixteen curves and two death traps will be eliminated when the highway commission completes contemplated work at San Mateo and San Onofre creeks, bids for which will be opened at Sacramento on May 4, according to a recent announcement by the commission.

The two points are in San Diego county, just beyond the Orange county line. San Mateo has been the scene recently of a number of fatal accidents. An abrupt turn in the highway, virtually on the edge of a bluff, makes the point a very dangerous one.

The proposed line change includes the grading and paving of 3.65 miles of highway, and the building of two new bridges. It is estimated that changes to be made will cost $250,000. It is understood San Diego county eventually will reimburse the state for the cost of the two bridges provided in the new plans.

vice given by the instructor. The sociologist scorns the modern ways of correcting the infant generation and harks back to the old Biblical admonition to apply the rod.

Spanking is the "ultima ratio" for naughty children, he declares, for corporal punishment will impress youngsters when nothing else will. In his opinion, going to bed or sitting in a chair soon become very commonplace and sometimes enjoyable, so the desired effect of the correction is frequently lost.

"Repeated direction and correction by word of mouth is far more harmful than a few smacks on the spot nature designed for punishment," Dr. Binder says. "Such verbal punishment takes on a form of mental torture, especially for the more sensitive children. And this practice invariably leads to a lack of harmony and friendship in the parental relationship."

Dr. Binder does not advocate frequent or severe whippings. He claims that such correction should be briefly applied and only in the case of wilful disobedience.

"Children with any initiative of their own are bound to disobey," he continued. "And the problem of devising effective means of correction for all situations is one which defies the ingenuity of the most competent parents."

"And most important of all is the fact that a spanked child will come back to establish friendly relations much more quickly than if he has been corrected in some other way. The reconciliation is more sincere and resentment is absent."

BRITAIN TO HOLD ARMY MANEUVERS

LONDON, April 10.—If the projected Washington arms conference is held in the autumn, it will coincide with the first army maneuvers held in Britain since the World war.

Lessons learned by the British aerial and land forces in actual warfare against the Germans will then be put into practice for the first time.

The maneuvers will be carried out in September in Hampshire and Wiltshire and in parts of Berkshire, Surrey, Sussex and Dorset. For days and weeks the Reds and the Blues will wage "mortal combat" over the hills, valleys, and farmlands of the district.

The troops engaged will comprise four regular infantry divisions, one territorial infantry brigade, one cavalry division, a force of tanks and dragons, and a number of squadrons of the Royal Air force. These will be concentrated in the maneuver area about the end of August and beginning of September, and will engage in training until the time of the actual maneuvers, at the end of September.

According to a war office announcement, it is unlikely that funds will permit of annual maneuvers on a similar scale. It has therefore appealed for co-operation on the part of farmers and landowners to help make the forthcoming drill as free from limitations as possible. There is, however, an act of parliament conferring on the troops powers of passage and use of water supply practically anywhere throughout the area.

A civil commission, representing both county and war office interests, provides for restriction of damage and for compensation.

Will Nab Man If Murder Case Fails

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, April 10.—Should the state of Utah fail to convict Mary Collins of the holdup and murder of C. H. McQuown, former mayor of Buhl, Ida., in this city, Oct. 11, 1924, the state of California will demand his return to his old home in Chico to stand trial for highway robbery. This became known when Deputy Sheriff J. A. Light, from Chico, arrived here with the necessary papers to arrest Collins in case the jury, now trying him on the McQuown murder charge, should acquit him. The robbery for which Collins is wanted in California, is alleged to have been committed September 4.

The Easter Mystery

Two Mary's came at break of day. While many still were sleeping. To announce the Savior lying there. Within the tomb, so cold and bare. They saw the great stone rolled away. And two angels vigil keeping.

The angels' robes were glistening white. Their faces bright and gleaming. Mysterious silence did abound. Guards lay as dead men on the ground. And from the tomb a radiant light. O'er all around was streaming.

The Mary's turned in haste to flee. With fear their bosoms heaving. The angels said, "Be not afraid; He is risen, come see where He was laid. Behold! He goeth to Galilee, Tell those whose hearts are grieving."

Quick fled they from the awe-some place. All beaten paths forsaking. Back to the furnished upper room. Where sad disciples sat in gloom. Seeing again their dear Lord's face. When He the bread was breaking.

And as the wondrous tale they told. That blessed Easter morning. Some of the faithful ones believed. And joyfully the news received; Others with hearts grown hard and cold. Turned from the words with scorn.

The risen Lord, the empty tomb. The grave cloths folded lying. Recalled prophetic words He said. "I'll rise in three days from the dead." Then drank the cup that sealed His doom. Upon the cruel cross dying.

To Mary, called the Magdalene. He showed His first appearing. When in the garden at the dawn. He spoke her name and then passed on. She told that she the Lord had seen. But was received with jeering.

And two disciples on that day—To Emmaus were walking. A stranger joined them on the road. And stayed with them where they abode. And in the old familiar way Broke bread, while they were talking.

Then vanished, while with awe they gazed. Their Savior recognizing. Then quick their journey they retraced. To tell what thing had taken place. Which left them wondering, sore amazed; So strange 'twas, so surprising!

And even more the mystery grew. While many were assembling. Through closed doors He entered in. Upholding them for doubt and sin. And they not knowing what to do Sat still in fear and trembling.

Oh, glorious day on which Christ rose. Death's bonds asunder rending. By that great act, to man He gave Victorious conquest o'er the grave. With triumph over all His foes. And hope of life unending. MRS. KATE C. EBEL, Tustin.

habit that later may lead them into the same habit on highways where there is heavy traffic.

Children, highways and automobiles do not mix any better than does whiskey and gasoline. The law, to some extent, has stopped the possibility of mixing whiskey and gasoline, and parents should take it upon themselves to prevent the mixing of "children, highways and automobiles."

150,000 COME TO STATE BY AUTO IN 1924

California's popularity as a playground for the rest of the nation was evidenced today in estimates released by the division of motor vehicles showing approximately 150,000 persons visited California by motor from other states during 1924.

The estimates are based on a compilation of the division's record of non-resident or "visitor's" permits issued during the year. A total of 47,412 such permits was issued for visiting automobiles.

The 1924 totals are somewhat under those of 1923, due to the hoof and mouth disease, and reports of forest fires which stopped much travel from eastern states.

The state of Washington furnished the greatest number of visitors, there being 7883 automobiles registered from there. Oregon is next with 7093, Arizona third, with 5114, and Illinois fourth with 2253.

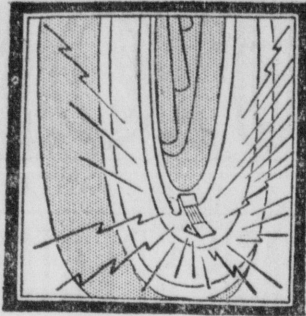

Fifty-three states and nations were represented by automobile travel during the year and the division estimates that at least three persons entered the state with every car. The amount of gasoline tax collected from these tourists amounted to thousands of dollars. The records show one car from Australia, seven from Lower California, 692 from Canada, two from Guam, 346 from Hawaii, 36 from Mexico and 26 from Alaska.

The extreme eastern states were all represented. New York sent 1384 cars, Rhode Island, 71, Virginia, 95, Maine, 82, and Ohio, 1517. Records for 1925 thus far indicate that travel to California will be nearly twice as heavy as last year, according to Chief Will H. Marsh.

Gland Transfer Cures Paralysis

LILLE, France, April 13.—Denise L., a three-year-old girl, suffering a fortnight ago from infantile paralysis, is recovering rapidly as a result of an operation which transferred to her the thyroid gland of the notorious bandit, Olivier, who then was guillotined. The child is playing merrily with her dolls, has lost her listlessness and soon will be able to leave the hospital. The operation was pronounced a most important contribution to the future of therapeutic medicine.

Nothing Like These Results A Year Ago or Now

It is no trick to build a car that will go 65 or 70 miles an hour if it has a power plant big enough to haul a freight train.

It's a great achievement to get over 70 miles an hour out of a motor of 3-inch bore and 4 1/4-inch stroke, with gasoline mileage safely above 20 miles per gallon.

And that's the wonder of the Chrysler Six—a wonder so different and so superior that Chrysler was forced to build over 32,000 cars to meet the first-year demand.

Of course you don't want to drive your Chrysler over 70 miles an hour. In fact you may never go that fast. But there is something you do want that only a speed-ability of 70 miles can give.

That something is sure, steady power for steepest hill or deepest sand, a pick-up to flash you out of a traffic tangle, sturdy, dogged pull so you can throttle to five, even two miles an hour, on high without "bucking."

That's Chrysler performance in a nutshell. You surely must drive the car. It's the only way you can fully appreciate that it is the best built car you ever rode in. We are always eager to demonstrate the Chrysler.

MEN WILL BE IN GAY COLORS FOR EASTER PARADE

BY PAUL WHITE

NEW YORK, April 11.—More men will have his innings Sunday.

His formal attire, as part of Fifth avenue's Easter parade, may fall into insignificance when compared with that of his gaily-clad wife, but if he should renounce the convention cutaway or frock coat, he will present an engaging spectacle.

Pastel shades which represent to women a moderate coloring, will transform men into butterflies. Thus, those who have followed ultra-fashionable decrees and purchased suits of oyster biscuit, China blue or other stylish tints, will heighten the rainbow effect of Easter dress.

Throughout the season, men's clothing designers have waged war as to whether the single or double breasted coat will be "the thing." One manufacturer, a diplomat as well, has produced the "single breasted model with a double effect." It cannot be said until Sunday which group has established itself as supreme in this conflict.

The waistcoat also may turn out to be single or double breasted. One thing, however, is certain. It doesn't need to be of the same cloth as the coat. Plain, washable materials will be popular.

Perhaps President Coolidge's stand against wide trousers may have brought about the change, but manufacturers almost uniformly have advised against the cuff that traverses a tremendous territory. The circumference of this season's trousers will come somewhere near the leg.

As to hats, a pearl derby will form a relief to the customary black bowler. Felt hats of unusual shades also will be popular.

White or colored shirts with cuffs to match, vivid bow or four-in-hand ties with flowing ends, tan dogskin or colored buck gloves, black or brown low-laced shoes and spats and socks which either harmonize or match, will complete the costume.

ORANGE DOCTOR DENIES CHARGE OF NEGLIGENCE

Denial that he had treated an injury of George Hasbrook, Tustin bakery employee, with negligence or unskillfully, or that he had treated any such injury as day by Dr. A. H. Domann, Orange physician, in filing an answer to Hasbrook's superior court suit for $20,000 damages.

Hasbrook's suit, filed recently, contained charges of malpractice, and alleged that, when he went to Dr. Domann for treatment of his left eye, in which a piece of steel had lodged, the physician told him there was nothing to do but use an eye wash. Hasbrook claims to have lost use of the injured eye.

Dr. Domann's answer, filed through Attorneys Head, Rutan and Scovel, denied that he treated Hasbrook for injury caused by a particle of steel, and declared that Hasbrook never mentioned any such injury to him.

As a further defense to the damage suit, Dr. Domann alleges that Hasbrook already collected compensation insurance under a policy carried by his employers, Gullidge and Hall, of Tustin, and therefore is legally barred from filing a damage suit based on the injury claim.

Hasbrook came to Dr. Domann, January 21, 1924, the physician claims, and stated that he had been struck in the eye by a barrel hoop, which he was removing from a barrel. The lower lid of the eye had been slightly cut. No mention was made of any piece of steel. Hasbrook was treated on January 21, 22 and 24, and then told Dr. Domann he was going back to his work, it was stated. The physician did not treat him later.

Denying Hasbrook's claim that he was exclusively under Dr. Domann's care until March 4, the answer alleged that Hasbrook, according to Dr. Domann's information, had been treated for an eye injury by several other doctors subsequent to January 24. Dr. Domann did not know whether

'BAD MAN' WILL PROVE POPULAR AMATEUR PLAY

Exceedingly flattering to the Santa Ana Community Players is the fact that inquiries about ticket sale for "The Bad Man," have been pouring in at the Santa Ana bookstore, where the little pasteboards will not even go on sale until Monday. This interest on the part of those who do not hold season tickets will undoubtedly hasten the reservations for those who hold tickets for all the entertaining events of the Music-Drama association course, according to the opinion expressed today by George Gerwing, director of "The Bad Man."

Offering both the attraction of actors who have proven drawing cards for previous Community plays and the fascination attending the debut of new players, the forthcoming attraction, which will open a four nights' run at Ebell auditorium next Monday night, is expected to prove one of the most popular plays ever presented here.

Hail and Farewell

It will be a "hail and farewell" event in truth, for, whereas two players are to be introduced in James Duggan and Eugene Douglas, Santa Ana audiences will be compelled to take a reluctant farewell of one who has proven almost an "old trouper."—"Rusty" Miller, playing the title role of "The Bad Man," Pancho Lopez. For Miller will leave soon to assume his new duties as assistant superintendent of associated charities in Los Angeles county. He has achieved success in different roles of a widely varied nature, but it is safe to assume that his final appearance before Santa Ana audiences will mark the highest point of his amateur theatrical career.

"The Community Players may rightfully claim to have developed much worth-while material," declared Director Gerwing in discussing the work of Gladys Simpson Shafer as the demurely quiet "Yvonne Pell" of the play. "An actor's true test is versatility," he continued, "and Mrs. Shafer stands that test in her character work, which is far different from the vivacious 'Dulcy' or the volatile 'Annabelle,' in those two outstanding successes, 'Dulcy' and 'Good Gracious Annabelle,' or the exotic charm of her 'Plum Blossom' in the 'Sweetmeat Game,' or the elfin 'Pierrette' in 'Maker of Dreams'."

Cast for Bad Man

The entire cast of "The Bad Man" is as follows:
"Henry Smith," Harry Brackett;
"Gilbert Jones," Warren Fletcher;
"Morgan Pell," James Duggan;
"Lucia Pell," his wife, Gladys Simpson Shafer; "Red Giddings," Smith's foreman, Eugene Douglas;
"Jasper Hardy," Ted Griggs; "Angela Hardy," Juanita Fletcher;
"Pancho Lopez," the bad man, R. R. Miller; "Pedro," his lieutenant, C. M. Featherley; "Venustiano," his henchman, Ruell Yount; "Alverado," Mexican cook, Dolly Denney; "Bradley," a Texas ranger, Harold Fish.

It was the same injury he had treated.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

No amateur event in recent years could attract the international interest that would develop over a match for the world's woman's tennis championship between Miss Helen Wills, the American and Olympic champion, and Miss Suzanne Lenglen, the former Wimbledon and European champion.

Cables to remote parts of the globe were hooked up with Forest Hills several years ago when Miss Lenglen started to play Mrs. Molla Mallory, the American champion, in a match that was virtually, if not officially, for the world's championship.

The retirement of the French star when she was being defeated in that match, her retirement in the Wimbledon championship last summer and her withdrawal from the Olympic championships have developed an interest in woman's tennis that would class a Wills-Lenglen match as one of the most important athletic contests that could be arranged.

The situation as it exists now warrants a prediction that Miss Wills and Miss Lenglen never will meet on the courts because the French star does not care to play the young American girl.

Cannot Face Match.

The etiquette of tennis and the culture of a lady do not permit Miss Wills to force a match for the world's championship. She cannot travel around challenging the French girl, not because she is too modest to do it, but because such things "aren't done," as the English put it. The Wills-Lenglen question could be decided only in a regular way by having the two stars enter in some recognized tournament.

Two such opportunities were presented last year and when they failed to result in a meeting, it is doubtful that a meeting ever can be arranged. Since Miss Lenglen declined to go through the Wimbledon tournament and refused to enter the Olympic tennis matches, there is very little chance that she would enter any tournaments in the future in which Miss Wills was one of the competitors.

Patriotism influenced Miss Lenglen to come to this country when a drive was being made for devastated France, but patriotism failed to move her to enter the Olympic matches last summer and France was desperate for the points that she was expected to win on the courts.

Will Not Tour Europe.

Miss Wills does not intend to go to Europe this summer for the Wimbledon championships and the continental tournaments and it is a dead cinch that the French girl will not come to this country.

There is a possibility that a situation may develop next year where Miss Lenglen may be forced to defend what she still considers her world's championship, or admit that she does not care to play the young American. Miss Wills is working for an art scholarship in Paris and as she is just about as good in the class room as she is on the court, it is very likely that she will succeed.

If she spends a year or several years in Paris the occasion is almost certain to arise where a match with Miss Lenglen will be developed regularly and where Miss Lenglen will have great difficulty in avoiding the meeting gracefully.

There are some competent critics who do not agree that Miss Wills has advanced to the form competent to heat a game of the former Lenglen standard, but the French star apparently thinks she has. If Miss Lenglen had any doubts, she should have gone through the Wimbledon tournament, when every one in London knew that the American girl was off her game.

MINUTE MOVIESCONNIE MACK DEPENDS ON 3
ROOKS TO BECOME REGULARS

LEFT TO RIGHT—SMITH, FOX AND COCHRANE

Connie Mack considers himself very fortunate in respect to his recruits. Already it is apparent that he has picked up two likely catches in Cochrane and Fox and a capable infield substitute in "Red" Smith.

Mack is particularly impressed by Cochrane. He thinks he will greatly bolster up the club by his batting and spirit. Back of the bat he is a regular chatterbox.

Cochrane's catching style isn't impressive. He is inclined to fight the ball a trifle, much after the style of Wally Schang when he broke in, but he has much baseball ability and looks like a coming star.

Smith is a clever shortstop and should Galloway fail, the Athletics will have a capable performer ready to step into the breach.

DODE BERCOOT LOSES TO MUSHY CALLAHAN

LOS ANGELES, April 11.—Mushy Callahan, former newsboy, won the referee's decision over Dode Bercoot, Seattle, at Hollywood last night in a fiercely contested battle.

Callahan piled up an early lead, winning five of the first eight rounds, and drawing in two others. In the ninth round Bercoot began to get his bearings and shot home several telling punches. In the tenth round he landed the hardest blow of the fight, a left swing that sent Callahan reeling. The newsboy clinched and then fought back desperately. Callahan's friends almost mobbed him when the referee raised his glove.

The Childs Cup race, which this year is to be rowed on the Harlem River course, is the oldest triangular boat race in America. Back in 1876 George W. Childs of Philadelphia offered a cup to be contested for by Pennsylvania, Princeton and Columbia, who formed an association under the deed of gift and held the first race in 1879 on the Schuylkill.

NEW YORK, April 11.—Babe Ruth passed another comfortable night, according to a report given out at St. Vincent's hospital this morning.

Hospital authorities said the Babe slept soundly and predicted that today would develop an appreciable change in his condition.

Despite the advice of physicians who have recommended that he remain in bed another week, Ruth hopes to be able to play in the season's opening game next Tuesday, hospital officials said.

HEYDLER SAYS
N. L. PENNANT
RACE IS OPEN

BY HENRY L. FARRELL.

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, April 11.—"New York is being picked generally to win another championship, but it looks like an open race," John A. Heydler, president of the National league, said today.

"The Giants have a strong club and perhaps they deserve to be picked as the favorite, but I think there will be strong opposition from several clubs and in a tight race most anything can happen," he said.

"New York's chances for another record in winning five consecutive championships depend largely upon the ability of the pitching staff to hold up through a long hard season. The team otherwise is strong and well fortified at every position.

"Brooklyn, more than the Giants, depend upon strong pitching to repeat last year's performance, in chasing the champions clear to the wire.

"The Pittsburgh club is still a threat as it has been for several years. The Pirates will show this season some of the good old fashioned baseball that prevailed before the slugging era.

"The Cubs had the misfortune to lose Rabbit Maranville for at least a part of the season. He will be missed as second base is an important part of the infield.

Cincinnati is supposed to have a weakness at first base, where Rube Bressler has been asked to take the place of Jake Daubert. But I believe that the Reds will be very much a factor in the race.

"St. Louis still has a powerful pitching staff and everything depends upon the pitching. Branch Rickey told me he thought he had a team this year that would be one of the surprises of the season.

"The Philadelphia and Boston clubs will not figure much in the championship battle this year because they are being rebuilt and their owners and managers are looking more to the future than the present."

SHORT SPORTS

Cowes, Isle of Wight, is the greatest yachting centre in the world.

King Albert of the Belgians is one of the most accomplished horsemen among European royalty.

More than 1,000 athletes are expected to compete in the University of Kansas relays on April 18.

At 99 years of age, Richard Ferris, living near Dartmouth, Eng., still rides to hunting meets.

Parimutuel racing has been legalized in Utah. Two seasons of 30 days each will be permitted under the new law.

The total value of the stakes to be run at Churchill Downs and Latonia during the coming Spring meetings will be $165,000.

Sport annals can show few parallels to the case of Jay Gould with respect to long continued holding of a national championship. Gould first won the national amateur court tennis championship nineteen years ago.

It has been claimed that the first intercollegiate athletic contest of any kind to be held in the United States was a lacrosse game played in Boston about a century ago by teams representing McGill and Harvard universities.

Georges Hackenschmidt, the former world's mat champion, has taken to a new kind of wrestling. He has written a ten-volume work on philosophy. Hackenschmidt, once known as "the Russian Lion," has his literary work while he was a war prisoner in Germany.

The largest number of tennis tournaments ever sanctioned by the United States Lawn Tennis association is contemplated in the schedule for the coming season. There will be increased competition in events for juniors, boys and girls as well as in the men's and women's events.

The Grand American Handicap is expected to establish a new trap-shooting record for actual number of competitors this year. Interest in the sport is greater than ever before, a fact attested to by the number of shooters that have taken part in the fixtures that have already been held this season.

PICK CAL. TO WIN BIG MEET
FROM 2 TEAMS

BERKELEY, Calif., April 11.—

The Bears of California, the Badgers of Wisconsin and a group of picked athletes from the Southern California conference will tangle here this afternoon in the first triangular track and field meet this year in this section.

Heavy clouds overhanging the bay districts during the forenoon, but there was promise of fair weather later in the day. Rain yesterday dampened the track but it was being put in good condition, with the meet "on," rain or shine.

The Bears were given an edge on the meet, with the advantage of a familiar track and weather. Wisconsin, handicapped by a long train ride and the fact that a strenuous indoor season has just been concluded, was hoped to crowd the locals, while the all stars from the south should place a strong third.

McAndrews in the 100 yard dash, McGinnis in the high jump, Valley in the mile and Schwarze in the shot put are four Wisconsin men conceded high points and probable first places. In addition, the badgers are certain to increase their score with a number of second and third returns.

From Southern California, Bob Maxwell should lead the field in both hurdle events. Barring accidents, he is expected to crowd his own record of 15 1-10 in the high sticks and 23 7-10 in the low.

Baton, throwing the javelin and Graham in the pole vault are two other all stars dotted to run high.

California's greatest strength will be in the field events, with Gerkin, Dodson, Garner and Hill entered in discus, javelin, pole vault and jumps.

Barber in the 220 and Johnson in the 440 should also boost the locals' total.

Solons Release
Three Pitchers

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Clark Griffith, president of the Senators, today announced release of three pitchers to the minors. Joe Martina was sent back to the New York Giants, Benji Brubaker to the Memphis club of the same league, while Jim McNamara was turned over to the Wichita club of the Western league.

McNamara was the only one on whom Griffith retained strings, and is subject to recall under an optional agreement.

Claims Wife Would

PRESCOTT, Ariz., April 11.—Oliver L. Bailey's wife, Mary, wouldn't let him sleep, the husband complained in a suit for divorce on file here today.

The woman had a habit of punching him out of his sleep, Bailey claimed.

Bailey also charged that his wife was "kitchen-sink" and neglected her housework.

The Baileys were married in San Bernardino in 1920.

Would Dispose of Teachers' College

SACRAMENTO, Calif., April 11.—An act enabling the state to dispose of the present teachers' college at San Diego and purchase a larger and more appropriate site, has been introduced in the lower house of the state legislature by Assemblyman Byron Walters. The present college would probably be sold to the city of San Diego, Walters said, as negotiations are now under way toward this end. The measure carries no appropriation.

Home Runs Decide Issue As
Third Upset of Week Is Staged In New League

Completing a week of most surprising upsets of dope in the new Santa Ana indoor baseball league, the Fluor Construction company aggregation last night "took to the cleaners" the Robertson Electric company, one of the hitherto undefeated clubs. The score was 4 to 2.

Of the 11 teams making a hunt for the indoor baseball title, all but two—the McFadden Hardware company and the Excelsior Creamery company—have been defeated. The Excelsiors have played only one contest.

Home runs played a heavy part in deciding the joust at the Poly grounds last night. Orlyn Robertson smacked one to deep center in the opening round and sent his men out in front. The Fluors came right back the next stanza and tied the score. Fritz Fluor connected for a circuit smash in the fourth, giving the contractors a lead and Pitcher Arguello homed in the sixth to put the fracas on ice.

Arguello had the better of Robertson in the pitching line, allowing but two blows as against six that Robertson permitted.

With three unexpected reversals upsetting the so-called favorites in the past week alone, few dopesters have the temerity now to select the probable champion team of the loop. The McFaddens and the Excelsiors, the lone undefeated clubs, haven't had a look at the best teams yet and when they do there may be a couple more upsets.

FIRST RADIO VOICE SENT OUT IN 1907

TOLEDO, April 11.—The first radio sending station in the world, where music and the voice were broadcast by wireless telephone, was established in a room in the Nicholas Building, this city, in July 1907.

Lee De Forest, inventor of the wireless telephone and father of the present extensive radio broadcasting, was at the sending station. His co-worker, Frank E. Butler, received in a room a block away in the Ohio Building.

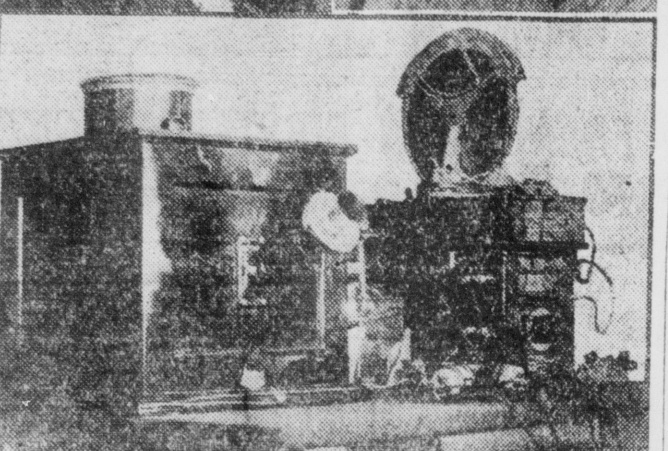

Butler is now manager in charge of sporting goods and radio sets in a Toledo department store. He had been associated with De Forest since they met at the St. Louis fair in 1904, when Butler, then a train dispatcher, visited the exposition.

In the summer of 1906 Butler, from the station he had erected at Manhattan Beach, L. I., in conjunction with De Forest, sent the first wireless telegraph message across the Atlantic.

De Forest in 1907 perfected, in the old Parker Building, New York City, the first audion bulb, the instrument that foreshadowed the dawn of the wireless telephone. He and Butler designed two crude sending and receiving sets and went to Put-in-Bay, in Lake Erie, where during the yacht races the wireless telephone proved its worth. De Forest had his set on the yacht Thelma and sent to Butler, on shore, verbal accounts of the races on the lake.

Neither had funds, Toledo being nearby, Butler induced De Forest to come here where they at least could eat at Butler's father-in-law's table. Setting up their crude sets in the Nicholas and Ohio Buildings, they carried on their experiments, using an old talking machine for music when not discussing the results orally by wireless.

Butler says De Forest got his real financial start when he was ordered in 1908 to build 40 wireless telephone sets for Admiral Bob Evans' fleet about to sail around the world. Butler left the inventor about this time and organized the American Wireless Institute, the first of its kind in the world.

Keep This Near Your A Battery

THE readings of your hydrometer show how fully the A battery is charged. The following list shows to what degree the battery is charged at various hydrometer readings:

1275—100 per cent.	1210—48 per cent.
1270—96 per cent.	1200—40 per cent.
1260—88 per cent.	1190—32 per cent.
1250—80 per cent.	1180—24 per cent.
1240—72 per cent.	1170—16 per cent.
1230—64 per cent.	1160—8 per cent.
1220—56 per cent.	1150—0 per cent.

The battery gives good service while it is charged over 1240. Below this point it needs recharging.

Cheap Home-Made "B" Battery

One dollar was all that it cost John A. Clark, head of the physics department of Alexander Hamilton high school, New York, to construct a storage "B" battery. The battery, as shown above and in detail, in inset, consists of 50 mucilage bottles and inkwells, with ordinary lead, bent U-shape, for plates. Its capacity is 100 volts.

LOWEST WAVES TO BE TRIED IN ARCTIC

CHICAGO, April 11.—Practical testing of the Reinartz low-wavelength theory will be undertaken, when Donald B. MacMillan, the arctic explorer, goes back north this summer.

It was John L. Reinartz of South Manchester, Conn., who gave voice to the idea that the extremely low wavelengths can be heard best over long distances during the day-time, even surpassing the best results of long waves at night.

Upon this advice, therefore, MacMillan has decided to equip his boat with a 20-meter transmitter with which he will send weekly reports to amateurs in America from his station in the arctic. Besides this low-wavelength transmitter, however, he will equip himself with three others, one each for transmission on 40, 60, and 180 meters.

Most daylight transmission, however, will be undertaken on the 20-meter band. The 40-meter transmitter will be used around midnight. The 60-meter range will be kept for emergency calls, and the 180-meter transmitter will be mostly experimental.

Out of the 17,000 amateurs in the United States, only about 20 are equipped for 20-meter transmission and reception. Many are therefore rebuilding their sets, or making additions, with the hope of talking, or at least listening, to MacMillan during his arctic sojourn.

MacMillan will take with him an amateur, picked by the American Radio Relay League, as he did last year. The choice will depend on the amateur's personality, ability and physique, besides his knowledge of short wave transmission.

No Names Sent Over Radio

CHICAGO, April 11.—Broadcasting station WGN, here, is trying to set an example for other stations to follow.

It is declining to answer requests for special numbers or even telegrams and letters of appreciation by radio. Persons requesting a special song and others receive their acknowledgment and thanks by mail.

The microphone is kept clear for the entertainments and lectures alone.

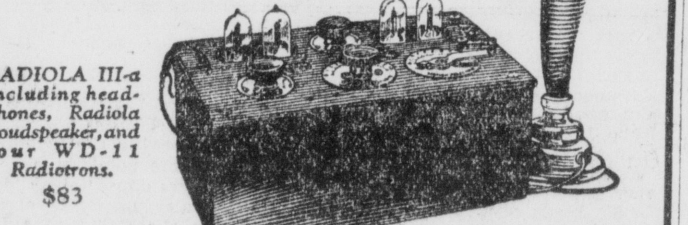

Bass-Hueter Backs KPO Programs

C. H. Dahlem, manager of the local branch of the Bass-Hueter Paint company, invites local radio amateurs to tune in on KPO, San Francisco, every Tuesday evening from eight to nine p. m., through April and May when they will hear some fine programs offered through the courtesy of his company. The Bass-Hueter programs will feature high-class musical talent in well-loved songs and musical numbers. A short educational talk by the company's Home Beautiful department will be given on each program.

NATIONAL SONG CONTEST

STARVATION AND SQUALOR BRING UNTOLD MISERY TO MINERS IN NOVA SCOTIA

BY PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SYDNEY, Cape Breton, N. S., April 11.—In a faraway colony of misery at this tip of the American continent, 5000 victims of the age-old struggle between coal miners and operators today are facing starvation. A month's strike has forced them—mostly women and children—to become public charges on a dwindling relief fund that can give them only three cents a meal for food and sometimes not even that.

Thousands more of the 60,000 affected miners and dependents are living in filth and squalor under conditions that have doubled the death rate and filled the hospitals. In four days' travel through the stricken district, I have found families with nine and 10 children living in 2-room company houses, with not enough clothing to cover their bodies, no pants for the boys to go to school, and mothers—pale and emaciated—who have been without food for four days.

The handicapped and impoverished relief committees have been doing all that the charitable people of Canada have contributed; but, in the words of Father Macadam, chairman of the Glace Bay Relief committee, "there is only one thing we can do—help them enough for us to help them—body and soul together—and I didn't know how long that will continue."

Funds Dwindle Daily
"Each day our funds grow smaller," he says. "We have been giving them meat one day a week, but we couldn't give them any meat this week because we didn't have the money."
"Herring and cod and bread and tea is about all we can buy and we need ten times more of those than we can get. The provincial government has given us no funds. The merchants here are hard pressed already and they can give us no more."
"We are helpless. Hungry children are crying for food. I shudder to think of what is to happen if they don't get it."

His story is a duplicate of every impartial man in this district. The town physician, Dr. E. O. MacDonald, reported that diphtheria had broken out, adding to the misery, and that the hospitals were filled.

With sanitary conditions as they are and so many persons undernourished for a month, he told how easily they would fall under an epidemic. Dr. MacDonald and other physicians are working without pay.

Starving Cannot Pay
"I give more than I get every day," he says. "You can't expect people dying of starvation to pay you. My wife is working down in the bread lines and my son has the team out driving supplies to the relief stations."

George Boyd, who runs the clothing store in Sydney, says he did not sell a suit last week.

"But I had to send 15 pairs of kids' pants out to Glace Bay," he added. "It's hell here now and I don't know how we are going to carry on."

A. Y. MacDonald, registrar of Glace Bay, says 14 deaths were reported in his small district in February, when the men were working, while there were 27 deaths in March. The child mortality rate is high, he says.

Mrs. S. H. Morgan, wife of a miner living in "the shacks"—the names by which the company houses are known across the railroad tracks—gave the best testimony of that. She said her last four children had died at birth. First a girl and then a boy, and then finally girl twins. She has nine others in her home.

Boy Has No Shoes
"My boy can't go out because he hasn't any shoes. My oldest girl and I swap clothes to go out after relief when they don't come to us."

C. D. McIntyre and his aged wife, neighbors of the Morgans, were found huddled around their kitchen stove. Anyone who could see the face of the woman drawn with hunger, pale, emaciated and with a terrible look of resignation that seemed almost a surrender to death itself—would shiver at its ghastliness. I shall never forget it as long as I live.

"Yes, I guess I get enough to eat," she said.

"What did you have today?" I asked.

"A piece of bread and some tea."

"Don't you ever get any more than that?"

"Well, sometimes. But I ain't used to eatin' much."

Conditions were even worse in the home of Fred Snow and his family of 11 down at the point, where the wind blows in off the ice. The point was shrouded in a dense fog that made it all the more ghastly when it was there. Here the mines extend up dark lateral shafts for miles out under the ocean, like fingers spread 1700 feet beneath the ocean bed.

Doesn't Eat for Four Days.
The two rooms in the Snow shack were filthy dirty.

"God knows we ain't had clothes enough to send but one of the children to school," Mrs. Snow said. "There has been times when I ain't touched a morsel for four days myself."

"I'm expecting another child next month—another mouth to feed—I don't know how."

Reports were heard through the neighborhood that the "Reds" (Communists) were active among the men. I asked Mrs. William Rea, captain of the New Aberdeen Relief committee, who has lived here for two years.

"Why, this is what makes 'Reds' out of people," she said. "When hunger gnaws at a man's stomach and he sees his wife and little children starving, he is apt to see red."

"But I think the fact that there have been no disorders in all this misery is proof enough of the Scotch courage of our people."

"No mass meetings are held. No agitators are heard except through the propaganda they circulate. But courage cannot hold out forever against hunger."

Alleged representatives of Russian Communists offered the relief committee $5000 recently, but it was refused, even though the money was needed.

Cause of Pitiable Strike.
What is the cause of the strike which brought about such conditions?

W. A. McClurg, vice president and manager of the Empire Steel corporation, which operates all 15 mines in the district, says that

ANT-DRILLING ORDINANCE AT BEACH ADOPTED

Seal Beach Trustees Pass Measure Designed to Restrict Derivicks

SEAL BEACH, April 11.—An ordinance to prevent the drilling of oil wells in that portion of the city lying south of the state highway was adopted by the trustees this week.

The ordinance was drawn by Charles Swanner, city attorney, and was similar to that adopted by Newport Beach this week. It went much further in zoning the city into business and residential sections, against industries liable to become a public nuisance, including dog farms, gravel plants, noise producing machinery, livery stables and numerous others. Six blocks lining Main street were designated the business district. Two long petitions with many signatures were presented to the board. One asked for the restriction granted. The other signers wanted to let the oil companies drill wherever the oil was to be found. There was some misapprehension that the trustees were trying to put a stop to all operations in the unplatted portions of the city, and the city hall had the biggest crowd it has held this year.

Discussion brought out the fact that most of the signers were in favor of restriction applying to the south half of the city only, and not to the bill north of town, and believed to be an "oil dome" and already the site of half a dozen well drilling activities.

COUNTRY CLUB OPENING IS SET

SPRINGDALE, April 11.—Formal invitations have been received by members of the Long Beach Country Club, located here, to attend the formal opening Sunday, April 18.

Work of beautifying the links and grounds in general continues, with a large force of men employed. In an effort to have all completed by the opening date, the club house kitchen will be opened several days in advance to prepare for the event.

Aid Society At Mesa Has Session

COSTA MESA, April 11.—With nearly 50 people present, the women of the Aid society of the local church held their all day session at the church Thursday. A luncheon was served to about 25 people. A quilting bee and social chat filled the afternoon.

Mrs. I. O. Jewett and Mrs. J. R. King were in charge of the meeting. Mrs. J. Butler, Mrs. Charles McDowell, and Mrs. Charles Keizer were in charge of serving refreshments.

Mrs. Frank Eastman of Santa Ana was a visitor here this week. Roy King and Robert Snow of El Segundo spent the weekend visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. King.

Nab Woman for Issuing Checks With No Funds

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 11.—Mrs. J. L. Chambers of Westminster, formerly of this city, was lodged in the Orange county jail today charged with issuing fictitious checks. Mrs. Chambers was arrested at Westminster by a party from the sheriff's office in Santa Ana, on a warrant sworn out by Robb Cavanah. She is claimed to have issued a worthless check to Cavanah recently, and when arrested was said to be preparing to leave the city. Her husband has come to the attention of local police several times during the past several months for alleged passing of fictitious checks. Mrs. Chambers told local police she did not know where her husband is now.

DRAINAGE WORK DIRECTORS HEAR LEVEE REPORTS

TALBERT, April 11.—Directors of both the Newbert Protection district and of the Talbert drainage district met with others of their respective boards for the regular monthly business meeting. The Newbert directors received a report on the levee construction under way in the northern part of the district. One thousand feet has just been completed on the west bank of the river on the north side of Seventeenth street and the cost was reported as being less than $500.

The labor cost, $180, at the rate of $0.5 per yard, was most satisfactory to the board. Clyde Ellis is engineer on the dredger and Louis Bushard is the pilot.

The dredger was reported as at present working on the east bank, near Seventeenth, where a levee slightly longer than the one just completed, is under way. The work will be completed within two weeks and the dredger is then due to move south on the river where a levee which was washed out some years ago will be replaced.

A committee was sent out from the board meeting to a location where residents had requested work to be done but it was found to be out of the Newbert district and the plea was turned over to the district's attorney for consideration.

The Talbert drainage ditch directors met in the new office located in the second floor of the First National bank building for their meeting. These quarters have just been taken jointly by the three drainage districts, the Talbert, Newhope and Garden Grove, and this was the first meeting to be held in the new offices.

No move was made to further the plans for putting in the proposed tide gate at the river mouth on the advice of the district attorney's office pending the outcome of the suit which is being brought against the district by several property holders in the southern section who filed a complaint by reason of alleged injury to property from overflow water. The trial is due within a few weeks.

PASSION PLAY MUSIC TO BE HEARD SUNDAY

Noted Artists to Take Part In Sacred Concert at San Juan Capistrano

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, April 11.—In a special Easter program, Massenet's Passion Play concert will be presented here Sunday afternoon in the stadium erected with the walls of California's "Jewel of Missions." Then the concert-drama, it is announced, will take place in the stadium.

Among the most noted of the artists casted is Helene Stair, European star. Her engagement for the Easter concert is declared to be the first time she has appeared before the public in the United States.

Other leading musicians include A. Merrill Gilbert and his quartette of instrumental soloists from the Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra; Maria Luisa Pernal, well known Southern California singer, and Isabel Zenteno, lyric soprano.

The concert is staged to raise funds for the new organ to be built at the mission. The Rev. Father St. John O'Sullivan, priest in charge of the mission San Juan Capistrano, is directing plans.

In story the Passion Play follows the life of the Virgin Mary. The role of "The Virgin" is taken by Isabel Zenteno. She is given high commendation in her part by W. K. Shannon Ross, director.

"Madame Zenteno shows all the brightness of her glorious voice in the role. She is a most valuable acquisition to the concert stage of the day," Ross adds.

The first scene pictures Mary as the holy mother in the manger, seen watching her son Christ as he teaches the people. At the crucifixion when Mary, broken hearted, stays to the end. Finally in death she is transported to heaven by the angels.

Arrangements for the concert have been made by A. D. Pemberton. The presentation is in the hands of W. K. Shannon Ross, in presario of San Diego. Orchestra numbers will be directed by A. Merrill Gilbert.

SPELLING MATCH INTERESTS CLUB

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 11.—One of the liveliest programs of recent weeks was enjoyed by local residents at the regular meeting here Wednesday noon when several artists were presented, a spelling match was held, and a large wedding cake was cut.

Miss Martha Hoege, grammar school teacher, was the speaker. She told the local luncheon club of the modern methods used in teaching children how to spell. At the conclusion of her talk Miss Hoege held a spelling match.

R. Ridenour proved the best speller in the club.

Harold Stoenholm, 17-year-old Long Beach violinist, rendered several selections. Frank Naylor, local man, presented several whistling numbers and bird imitations. Miss Marie Gleason gave several readings. Bert Gothard and L. A. Olmstead were the chairmen of the day.

One of the largest fun features of recent meetings was presented when Oscar Milbrat, local butcher, presented the club with a birthday cake which when opened contained almost every convenience for the household. Cigars also accompanied the cake and were enjoyed by the Lions. Mr. and Mrs. Milbrat recently returned from a honeymoon into Mexico. The charity service prize, which is given at every meeting of the club, was presented to C. N. Whitlam. The Lions also scored another 100 per cent meeting in the attendance campaign which they are out to win.

Health Expert Is Speaker At Tustin

TUSTIN, April 11.—Stressing the importance of diet, mental hygiene and child training, Dr. Lela J. Beebe, a member of the state board of health, urged parents to take more care of their children both in their eating habits and the mental training, when she spoke before the Scientific Motherhood club, a recently formed organization here. The meeting and address was given at the grammar school auditorium Wednesday.

"One cannot expect a child to control their eating if the parents do not," Dr. Beebe said bringing out the point that much of the illness at the present time is due from over-eating and from eating the wrong things. She also spoke very highly of child training as it is contemplated by the club here.

At a short business meeting of the organization following the address the members of the club decided to meet at the grammar school twice each month. The meetings will be held the second and fourth Tuesday afternoons at 3 o'clock. The next meeting will be held April 28 in the kindergarten room of the grammar school when election of officers will be held. The first course in the study of scientific motherhood will be taken up at the meeting also.

BURY INFANT AT ORANGE
ORANGE, April 11.—Funeral services for Ammon H. Davis, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Davis, 222 North Shaffer street, who died Thursday afternoon, were conducted yesterday afternoon in the home.

MORE OIL WELLS AT NEWPORT BEACH AS COST OF PRODUCTION IS CUT DOWN

NEWPORT BEACH, April 11.—High concentration of the oil in the Newport field is turning out to be an advantage and not a detriment to production and refining, according to John A. Yerkes of the firm of Beesmeier & Yerkes, who has charge of important operations in the northwest portion of the city. This firm is preparing to sink 40 new wells, work to begin in a few days. It has already erected a refinery of 800 barrels daily capacity, and is producing regularly from four wells and refining product. A fifth well will be put on the pump in a few days. These wells average 50 barrels production daily, and with oil up to $1.40 per barrel a good profit is made on the operations.

Good engineering has made it possible to cut down the fuel cost more than 50 per cent, and to pump and refine the oil at a low cost. When it is taken into consideration that the wells are only 1100 feet deep and the cost of drilling is about one-fifth that of the deep wells in other fields, the operation is seen to be among the most economical in California.

As a consequence of these conditions and the proved existence of oil over a considerable area, Long Beach and Los Angeles capitalists and drillers are showing an interest in the wells. The wells appear to be long lived. The oil is being dehydrated and prepared for use in lubricants, and the refinery will devote some attention to this product.

Jack Duconum, proprietor of a small stand near the bath house, declared that he expected business to be better this summer here than ever before. He stated that the state highway would bring many people into the city during the summer. Duconum has maintained the only stand on the pike which remained open during the winter.

Predictions are general also that more than one life guard will be required on the beach here during the summer swimming season. Last year the life guard has been secured this year in the person of Fred Ott. Ott was employed as life guard here several years ago.

Pick Mrs. Viele Mesa P.-T. A. Head

COSTA MESA, April 11.—Mrs. Ralph Viele, local president of the local Parent Teacher association at the annual election of officers here this week. Mrs. Willard Mellett was elected vice president. Other officers are Mrs. F. S. Jones, recording secretary; and Mrs. Charles Adams, treasurer. The parliamentary and historical organization are to be appointed.

Mrs. Charles E. Yount, past president, was presented with a presidential pin. Reports of various committees were heard.

George Rice, representing the Better American Federation of Los Angeles, was the speaker. He spoke on the "Framing of the Constitution." Four delegates from the local P.-T. A. will attend the district meeting at Seal Beach today.

The mutual benefit committee will hold a board meeting at the home of Mrs. Fred Viele Tuesday, April 14, when several questions of importance will be decided. It is expected that the committee of securing money to finance the care of several children will be taken up at the meeting.

Use "Hick" Motif For H. B. Affair

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 11.—Carrying out the "hick" idea in their party to the last degree, the John Webster club members of the Vincinia club members and their husbands, staged one of the most unique parties ever held here. All guests were required to come in costume. Ray Walker and Mrs. C. Hanson were awarded the prizes for the best costumes.

Following general fun making over the costumes, cards were enjoyed, the prizes being won by Mrs. Dale Braybrook and C. Hanson. The party was held at the John Webster home. Decorations in the house were old fashioned with old family albums, whatnots, shells and other old fashioned curios. Predominating music was supplied by an organ. A drawing of the card party the entire group were summoned outside where they found a truck waiting to carry them to the banquet room.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL NEWS OF ORANGE

ORANGE, April 11.—A committee, under the direction of Clyde Slater, is completing plans for the card party to be given Tuesday night, April 14, by the American Legion, host here in the Legion club rooms. Bridge and 500 will be played and refreshments served.

Mrs. W. O. Higgins, 225 South Grand street, was hostess Thursday afternoon to the Auld Lang Syne club. Those who attended were Mrs. S. M. Higgins, Mrs. H. C. Mohrly, Mrs. Frank Higgins, Mrs. Ross Folger, Mrs. S. T. Higgins, Mrs. LeRoy Valentine, Mrs. Olive French, Mrs. Wade Hampton and Miss Estelle Higgins.

Mrs. J. C. Core and Mrs. Nancy J. Coffee, of Long Beach, were the guests here yesterday of Mr. and Mrs. William Peek, 120 East Alameda avenue.

Mrs. Blanche Willoughby and daughter, Virginia, of Sawtelle, and Mrs. Lillian Wooster and daughter, Mary, of Kallispell, Mont., are visiting here in the home of Mrs. S. A. Goodwin, West Palmyra avenue.

Mrs. J. L. Smith and daughter, Jean, of El Segundo, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Frost, 271 South Olive street.

OIL MEN LOOK TOWARD CHINO FOR NEW FIELD

Huntington Beach Operators Take Lease On Large Plot of Land

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 11.—A flar in oil by several prominent Orange county people including J. H. Macklin, and C. P. Patton of this city, and W. H. DeWolf, president of the Wilmax Land company in Santa Ana, was made known today.

Macklin and DeWolf recently purchased 550 acres of land in the vicinity of Chino, and according to reliable reports have gained control of about 2000 acres of land in the section. The 550 acre section has been secured from the Chino Land and Water company.

According to reliable reports, a well was drilled on this property nearly 25 years ago. Gas and oil were found then in such quantities near the surface that the well blew up, was ignited, burned the derrick and blazed continuously for two and one half years afterward.

Negotiations are understood to be under way by several large oil companies for leases in the section. Several of the companies are negotiating with DeWolf and Macklin for rights to develop the old well on the property.

The two Orange county men have also leased 320 acres of land from William Tebo, city marshal of Chino. Oil, according to Macklin, has been found on this property at a depth of 108 feet from the surface. There are now three wells on the property from which samples of oil testing as high as 27 gravity have been secured, according to Macklin. It is expected that wells on the property will be developed immediately.

At one time one of the wells on the land showed 134 barrels of oil per day, it is said. At that time oil was worth only about 15c per barrel. The wells are said to still be producing large quantities of gas although drilled nearly 25 years ago.

Pointing strongly to the discovery of a new Southern California oil field is the fact that the Shell Oil company of California has recently built a large oil refinery in the city of Chino, although there is no oil close. It is also understood that large individual California and Oklahoma oil men are negotiating for leases in the Chino district as well as the larger California companies.

Speedy Drivers Given Orders to Appear In Court

ORANGE, April 11.—Motor speed demons in Orange find little sympathy and a poor listener in Charles Wallace, Orange police commander, when they bring their cars to a halt at his command. Through Wallace's efforts, six drivers have been indicted, during the last two days, for interviews with G. W. Ingle, city recorder.

The fruits of the "speed cop's" labor yesterday resulted in the arrests of R. E. Morgan, of Alhambra, and George M. Tadick and R. E. Chapman of this city.

Tadick will appear before Judge Ingle Tuesday, charged with driving approximately 31 miles an hour at the intersection of Chapman and Pixley streets, and with operating a motor vehicle without an operator's license.

Chapman, chauffeur for the Nu Way Laundry company, was arrested for speeding over the intersection at Glassell and La Veta streets. He also will appear in recorder's court Tuesday.

Ingle Wednesday, charged with speeding across the intersection at Batavia and Chapman streets, while pulling a trailer.

HYMNS IN INDIAN TONGUE

NEW YORK, April 10.—Mrs. Julia Norton Clemens, formerly of Evanston, Ill., a missionary of the Methodist Episcopal church in India, and the Rev. William Dye, an Indian pastor in Sonapat, are gathering Indian tunes and Christian hymns in the Indian tongue for the purpose of issuing a revised hymnal for use in the Methodist mission churches of that land, according to a report reaching the Board of Foreign Missions in New York City.

Urge Fullerton Man for State Realty Position

FULLERTON, April 11.—The candidacy of Mayor H. H. Crooke of this city for the position of state real estate commissioner was advocated at a meeting of the local Realty board at their regular luncheon meeting yesterday.

Mr. Crooke, besides being mayor, is a prominent real estate man having been at one time president of the local real estate board.

Announcement has recently been made of the resignation of Edwin T. Kaiser as real estate commissioner and the realtors at their meeting yesterday voted to send a telegram to Governor Richardson and to the state real estate association urging the appointment of the local man.

COMEDY TO BE PRESENTED AT COSTA MESA

COSTA MESA, April 11.—Preparations were being made here today for the presentation of the home talent play "Jimmie's Coming Home," which will be given at the Women's clubhouse April 14. The play is a three act farce comedy and the players have been working on the production for some time.

Included in the cast are Miss Alice C. Plumer, as Mrs. Brooks of Colbrook farm; Miss Daisy Cooke, as Lucille Brooks, her daughter; Miss Ruth Craig, Peggy Sommers, a 16-year-old neighbor; Bernice Bailey, Bunny Banks, a 17-year-old neighbor; Vale McCrory, as Val Gardner, a young lawyer; W. J. Hostettler, Chesterfield McSwope, a friend of Val; Mrs. George Fair, as Allie Thomas, a pretty school teacher; W. W. Middleton, as George Pierce, a country lawyer, and Mrs. Eva Gage as Melinda Preston, an old maid. Mrs. P. G. Roberts is assisting.

L. A. Musician To Talk To Clubwomen

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 11.—A talk on music by Mrs. Frances Greenwood of the Birken Music company of Los Angeles will be open to the public. Mrs. H. A. Bowman, chairman of the entertainment committee, has arranged an excellent program.

Reports on the reciprocity meeting held recently in Santa Ana and the county board meeting at Yorba Linda will be given by the delegates to the meetings. Mrs. Lillian Elford, Mrs. Gertrude Churchill, and Mrs. J. N. Allen are the hostesses for the day.

Big Smokestack at Beach City Among Nation's Tallest

SEAL BEACH, April 11.—The highest smokestack west of the Mississippi river, with the exception of one at Houston, Texas, is being completed in Seal Beach. It is said to be the highest stack in the United States on the roof of a building. It is 305 feet above the roof and 375 feet in all. Inside dimensions are 24 feet at the bottom and 12 at the top.

Hundreds of persons this week stared at the spectacle of three men, appearing as small as gnats, let down by cables from the top to paint the outside of the column. Some appreciation of the height may be gained by comparing it to the highest buildings in Los Angeles or Long Beach, than which it is more than twice as high. It is a landmark that on a clear day may be seen from any section of Orange county.

REJOICING AT EASTER

The name "Easter," applied now to the Christian festival commemorating the resurrection of Christ, was derived from Teutonic mythology. "Eostre" or "Ostara" was the Anglo-Saxon goddess of spring. A month, corresponding to our April, was dedicated to her and called "Eostur-monath." Many of our current Easter observances, both religious and non-religious, such as the giving of flowers and of gaily decorated Easter eggs, have their origins in spring rejoicings which go far back into history.

The beauty of the religious symbolism is not lessened by a realization of the antiquity of human rejoicing over the visible springtime renewal of life, the glad custom of putting on fresh and cheerful attire and the blossoming of many flowers.

Christ is risen!
This message, heard throughout the world this Easter, is a message of supreme joy.

From the hilltops of our own country, the rising of tomorrow morning's sun is to be hailed with rejoicing, not that the rising of the sun on that day will be materially different from the rising of the sun on many other days of the year in California but because the rising of the sun is a token of the risen Lord.

From the wealth of our gardens, altars and pillars and aisles in our churches tomorrow are to be made wonderfully beautiful. From the hearts of those who attend services tomorrow will be poured forth the joy of living, striking in unison the chords of great joy that fill the world with heavenly music.

ABOUT TIME FOR A DEPOT

A few years ago, officials of the Pacific Electric made frequent complaint because the growth of the automobile, the stage and the truck was slaughtering the electric road's business.

The complaint was directed largely against the truck, which was running free of license at that time on public highways while the Pacific Electric was using a roadbed and rails for which it had paid and was paying large sums of money in taxes.

Today the truck and stage lines are under state regulation. Whether they pay as much as they ought for the use of the highways is a debatable question and one that need not be discussed in this editorial. It is doubtful if state regulation and taxation have greatly reduced the competition of the truck and stage with the Pacific Electric. Trucking and stages have continued to grow, as they would have grown regardless of regulation and taxation, they being an economic development based upon public convenience, and the Pacific Electric's problem in meeting the truck and the stage is still acute.

But the Pacific Electric's contemplation of the tremendous increase in automobile traffic brings it some satisfaction. The very immensity of the traffic is turning business to the Pacific Electric. Scores of Santa Anans, who, a few years ago, would have used their automobiles for trips to Los Angeles, now prefer to go by Pacific Electric. Congestion along the way has lengthened the time it takes on the road, and congestion in Los Angeles is something that most motorists avoid.

And patronage of the Pacific Electric will continue to grow as traffic congestion on the highways and in Los Angeles increases.

Since that is true, we are reminded of the fact that Santa Ana has been waiting more than 20 years for the Pacific Electric to build a passenger station in Santa Ana. If the Pacific Electric expects to compete successfully with the stage lines in handling Santa Ana passenger business, it ought to provide accommodations at least equal to those provided by the stage lines.

FACTS ON THE SHOALS

Fortunately, as many think, the last Congress adjourned without doing anything about Muscle Shoals. The country is anxious to dispose of the Shoals problem, but it became evident toward the close of the session that both public and Congress were far from having all the essential facts.

There was no agreement among engineers as to how much power could be produced there, how much of it would be available for nitrates, how well the plants already finished were adapted to nitrate manufacture, whether enough fertilizer could be made there to play a really important part in agriculture, and whether fertilizer or power was the more essential to southern prosperity. These questions should be settled before any final disposition is made of that valuable and unique property.

The president is now appointing a commission, as requested in a congressional resolution, to inquire and report on the matter at the opening of the next session. If it does its work competently, it will be time to go ahead with that big power plant, under public or private control, as may seem best. But whatever disposition may be made of the property, there will be strong objection to the government surrendering title to the Shoals, or leasing them to private interests for as long as was contemplated in the Ford lease—a full century.

THE "NEWS BUTCHERS"

The Norfolk and Western railroad has banished "news butchers" from its passenger trains. It explains that these vendors of newspapers, magazines, candy, chewing gum, fruit, etc., had come to be a nuisance, causing passengers more inconvenience than the services they rendered.

This example may be followed by other railroads. Whether it is or not will depend largely on the vendors themselves. This is good reason why most of the things they handle should be sold on railroad trains. Properly conducted, their activities may minister to the genuine needs of passengers and make long trips more comfortable. But too often they make passengers more trouble than they are worth by going constantly back and forth in the aisles, crying ing their wares, pressing them on passengers and insisting on their buying.

What is really needed is not banishment but reform.

Now that Kid McCoy, who wanted the jury to believe he was insane, is locked up in the penitentiary, and the Ellington girl, who wanted the jury to believe her sane, has been decreed insane, we hope that there will be less in the newspapers concerning both.

IDENTIFICATION TAGS

The French people will be required to wear metal identification tags, as their soldiers did in the war, and for similar reasons. As the news crosses the sea, there is some demand for similar precautions in this country.

There is some justification, too. The hazards of peace are becoming comparable to those of war, especially among factory workers and pedestrians. The former are more easily identified than the latter, because employers usually have some system of recognition, whereas men, women and children are often found on the street with no visible proof of identity. There is more and more of a tendency, too, in this queer age, for people to wander off and forget who they are.

Metal tags, however, are troublesome to wearers and likely to be forgotten or discarded. If we must all be labeled for purposes of recognition, why not be branded like western cattle or tattooed like sailors?

Riverside's Position

At the time the Riverside Chamber of Commerce met with members of the board of regents in Riverside relative to extension of the work in citriculture and graduate work in sub-tropical horticulture, at the citrus station, owing to charges that Riverside was seeking to secure a college of agriculture, against the established policy of the college of agriculture and the board of regents, the Chamber went on record to the effect that it would accept whatever policy the regent might adopt relative thereto for the next two years. In harmony with that position, the chamber at present is in honor bound to abide by the decision relative to the location of the Southern Branch at Beverly Hills and not to attempt to secure an appropriation for agricultural purposes at the citrus experiment station near this city.

Assurances have been given that building needs at the citrus station will be taken care of directly by the board of regents and that it will not be necessary to have a special item in the bond issue for Riverside for the badly needed wing to the present citrus station buildings. Support of the proposed bond issue as called for in the measure now before the legislature, therefore, is all that should be asked of Riverside representatives at Sacramento, thus retaining the good will of the board of regents and also of the Los Angeles people, particularly the regents who reside in the latter community.

No Popular Support

Legislation generally is presumed to have its inception in some popular demand. No well-balanced law-maker desires to formulate a bill running directly contrary to public interest. Yet seemingly that is what Senator Breed has done in framing his measure to place the oil industry under control of the railway commission.

So far, we have heard of no interest that favors the bill that the senator has introduced. Capital is opposed to it; labor organizations are going on record against it; taxpayers other than oil men perceive that the movement if successful will add to their own burden of taxation; county governments whose service has been built with the help of taxes obtained from the oil industry and which taxes are reckoned upon to meet governmental expense, are unalterably opposed to it. If there are those who are its champions, they have singularly enough refrained from making themselves known.

Under these circumstances, just why this amendment should be forced through the legislature and up to the people for their rejection, is not very clear. No doubt Senator Breed was angry when he framed his measure, but possibly the overwhelming sentiment against it may result in cooling him off. Certainly it should result in determining the opinion of other legislators.

Many Coming For Summer

The tide of summer tourist travel to Southern California this season will run high, according to present indications. Inquiries received by the All-Year club of Southern California—in 16 per cent in excess of 1923, the banner year for Summer visitors to this Southland. Inquiries about Summer vacation possibilities in this section are being received in great numbers. From these indications of interest it is argued that the volume of travel to Southern California will be greater than ever before at this season.

The delightfulness of California in Summer is sure to draw greater and greater numbers of visitors in future. The extensive advertising that is given California is bearing fruit. And the great numbers who come here in Summer and are pleased, come back again—and not only that, they spread the good word among their friends, and induce them to come. This human advertising is very effective.

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. CLIFFORD C. ROBINSON

FOOD COST

There is no more important relation among the many conditions and items which make for a healthy, strong body than proper food and proper eating habits. When the right kinds of food are supplied to the body and digestive processes are normal in their functioning, all the various elements and chemical combinations which make up the body perform their activities naturally and the energy and strength necessary for robust health are produced.

But there is such a vast difference in the quality and quantity of food, according to the state of poverty or riches in which a family or individual is situated, that health is often a mere matter of money.

The average individual must take the proper amount of proteins, fats and carbohydrates as daily food in order to have a healthy growth and renewal. If excessive amounts of any of the three classes are taken, or if the amount of one is deficient, it will not be long before the health will be injured and bodily resistance lowered. But only a certain part of our vast population choose their food wisely or well. I am not so sure but that the poorer classes might be far healthier than their more fortunate brothers if the knowledge of how to purchase the right kind of food could be given them. No matter how poor one may be, it is unwise to save in food expenditure at the expense of health. What food for a family of five should cost a week may be averaged according to the family income. The amount in many schedules that different cities and civic bodies have given out varies from $3.26 to $12.86. The cost of foods is one way of determining what the doctor's bill for an average family may be.

It is good advice that good health largely depends on good food. Good food in this instance being a wise selection of the different classes, not forgetting the vegetables and vegetable oils.

Looks Like a "No Sale" Here

The Resurrection

Matthew 28

In the end of the Sabbath, as it began toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre.

And, behold, there was a great earthquake: for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it.

His countenance was like lightning, and his raiment was white as snow. And for fear of him the keepers did shake, and became as dead men.

And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear not ye; for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified.

He is not here: for he is risen, as he said. Come, see the place where the Lord lay.

And go quickly and tell his disciples that he is risen from the dead: and, behold, he goeth before you into Galilee; there shall ye see him: lo, I have told you.

Jefferson's Decalogue

The anniversary of Thomas Jefferson's birth, April 2, recalls a work of that statesman and philosopher which is too little known. It is what he called "A Decalogue of Canons for Observation in Practical Life," some of which have been attributed to Franklin, and all of which are worth remembering. They are as follows:

1. Never put off till tomorrow what you can do today.
2. Never trouble another for what you can do yourself.
3. Never spend your money before you have it.
4. Never buy what you do not want because it is cheap; it will be dear to you.
5. Pride costs more than hunger, thirst and cold.
6. We never repent of having eaten too little.
7. Nothing is troublesome that we do willingly.
8. How much pain have cost us the evils which have never happened!
9. Take things always by their smooth handle.
10. When angry, count ten before you speak; if very angry, a hundred.

Time to Smile

Dorothy had been praying for a baby sister. The other day her mother, while reading the paper, exclaimed: "I see Mrs. Smith has a little daughter."
"How do you know that, mamma?" Dorothy inquired. "It says so in the paper dear." "Read it to me."
Her mother read: "Born on March 2, to Mr. and Mrs. Smith, a daughter."
Dorothy thought a moment and then said: "I know what I'm going to do. I'm going to stop praying and begin advertising."

UNCANNY KNOWLEDGE

A man in a restaurant, after finishing his meal, took out a cigar and started to light it. The head waiter approached and said: "You are not allowed to smoke, sir."
"Why," said the diner, "that's what my doctor told me. But how the dickens did you know?"—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Frant—My wife and I have a joint bank account.
Jones—That's a good idea. Saves a lot of trouble, doesn't it?
Frant—Oh, yes. All I have to do is put the money in. She draws it out.—London Weekly-Telegraph.

Little Benny's Note Book

by Lee Pope

I was down town with ma this afternoon and we came to a man with a big wading machine, saying, Step up, ladies, and see how much you way today, keep track of your weight, that's what the doctors tell you. Step rite up and get your correct weight for 3 cents. Ladies and gentlemen and children, this scale will give you a fair deal irregardless of sex or size, he sed, Wy dont you get on it, ma, you like to get wayed, I sed.

Well, I know I dont way any more than 149 pounds, but then the coarse theres always the chance that Ill way less, the way I've bin dieting lately, ma sed, I believe I will let him way me, jest for curiosity, she sed.

And she got on, saying to the man, Are you sure this scale is correct?

I couldnt be any more sure without being absolutely positive, the man sed.
Being a short wide man with a red mustash, and he started to move the weights on the thing to see how much ma wayed, saying, Yes, madam, I would trust this scale with my life if it was necessary, though naturally I hope it never will be, not being a reckless man by nature. Madam, you way precisely 151 pounds to the dot, he sed.

Wat, how mutch, thats a scandal and a libel and an outrage, I never wayed that mutch in my life, and I dont intend to begin today, and if you expect 3 cents for insulting me to my face in that manner you can go on expecting to your dying day, the ideer, ma sed.

O, jest a moment, half a minnit, a couple of seconds, the percolator wasnt working rite and Im afraid the scale didnt register correct, that happens on an average once every 7 years, would you mind stepping on agen, madam? the man sed.

On The Side Lines

A Record of Individual and Independent Opinion.
(Which may or may not be in harmony with the views of the Register.)

FOR EASTER—At this Easter time this column will take occasion to present a sentiment appropriate for the season, or for any season. It comes from a man for whom this writer confesses a very high regard—Chas. Evans Hughes:

"What does the Christian character or balanced life mean? It is this: faith without credulity, charity without condescension, courage without pugnacity, self-respect without vanity, humility without obsequiousness, love of humanity without sentimentality, and meekness with power."

SURELY DID—Cecil Wright, picked up by horticultural inspectors while transporting frozen oranges through Orange county, went back to his home in Artesia minus the fruit, which was destroyed by the officers, and also minus $25 which he paid as a fine.
Fine! Served Cecil Wright.

REMEMBER THIS—"Be kind to animals" week is the week from April 13 to 19, both dates inclusive, of course. The ladies, in particular, should bear the dates in mind. Remember, too, that the husband is one of the most useful animals we have.

REASON ENOUGH—The atrocities charged against the Chileans by the Peruvians in the disputed district of Tarata consisted mainly in the cutting off of the hair of some of the Peruvian women.
It is quite obvious that such acts are calculated to make the

YES, WHAT IS IT?—The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, with the desire, as announced, of establishing more friendly relations with Arizona, is planning a "sociability tour" to the neighboring state.

Let's see, what is Arizona possessed of which Los Angeles needs?

PLEASE ALL TASTES

The country will watch with much interest the outcome of the experiment to be tried by a well known Iowa newspaper. It proposes to segregate the crime news and print it on a page by itself, "so that children and general readers will not have to search through crime to find the worthwhile news of the day." Those interested in crime may, under this arrangement, get just what they wish without bother. For those seeking something still more revolting there remains the so-called "funny page."

OPINIONS WILL DIFFER

Southern California interests opposed to the selection of the Westwood site for the Southern Branch of the State University had a hearing one day this week before the Senate Committee on Universities. Objection was made to the site on several grounds, one being that it is not large enough, and another that agricultural education could not be made a success, because of the character of the soil.
The Los Angeles Times says the objections "failed to impress" the committee, which is, as dear old Ambrose Bierce used to say, simply: "A transient record of individual opinion."

STILL THEY GOT AWAY

Two men, both convicted murderers, escaped from San Quentin state prison Wednesday. Incidentally, it may be said that neither had the co-operation of the State Board of Prison Managers.

SEARCH, IF YOU LIKE!—Governor Richardson says that there is a surplus in the state treasury of $6,000,000. State Controller Ray L. Riley says there is double that amount on hand.

As to that "unaccounted for" difference of about $6,000,000—Well, if anyone believes that the writer of this column has it, no objection to a search will be made.

A RIGHTEOUS WAR—Through-out the country war has been declared against the publications known as "Moron Magazines."

It is high time that something be done along this line, with the news stands are filled with copies of such periodicals as Dream World, Dance Lovers, Hot Dog, Jim Jam Jems, Red Pepper, Secrets, True Confessions, Saucy Stories, Snappy Stories, I Confess, and True Romance.

TEMPERMENTAL MR. BORG—Gutzon Borglum, who has grown to be, in all probability, America's greatest sculptor, was in charge of the great work of carving an army in stone on the granite face of a gigantic cliff some twenty miles east of Atlanta. Quarrelling with the directors in charge of the work, Mr. Borglum was dismissed. Thereupon he destroyed all the models which had been prepared, and did what he could to render impossible the conclusion of the work.

In the case of a lesser workman one would call such conduct as this sabotage.

A GOOD PLAN—Long Beach has voted a huge majority in favor of a city pension fund for firemen and policemen. The city or state which adopts such a measure is simply giving expression to a sentiment which actuates most good citizens.

DOC GOT RECKLESS

A cold deal for the "famous Arctic explorer," Doc Cook, who has commenced to serve his fifteen-year sentence in the penitentiary for swindling.
After he got away with his claim of having discovered the north pole, adducing as proof of the alleged feat, a piece of Esquimo pie, he got reckless.

TOO SENSITIVE—Linguists tell us the name of the Premier of France should be pronounced Herryo, with the accent on the "owe".

For obvious reasons it is not safe for an American visitor to France to mention the premier's name.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

NO. 6—MORE TROUBLE IN DADDY GANDER TOWN

When Snitcher Snatch, the goblin, rolled out of the Muffin Man's back door, some of the magic stuff spilled out of the gold snuff box and blew all over Daddy Gander Town.

Then the fun began.
The Balloon Man was just getting his balloons blown up for the circus, when a grain of snuff blew up his nose.

"Achoo!" he went. "Achoo! Achoo! Achoo!"

And he caused such a breeze with all his sneezing that his bunch of balloons broke away from the string that tied them down, and carried him with them up into the air.

He went up and up and up, calling loudly for help, but when you hear of the troubles that other people were having, you won't be surprised that nobody could come to the poor fellow's aid.

I think he struck a mountain peak and caught on a rock and hung there until the Man in the Moon telegraphed to the government to send a flying machine to rescue him.

If you ask him the next time you see him, he can tell you all about it.

At about the same time the Old Apple Woman had piled her fruit stand with shiny red apples and yellow oranges and lemons and coconuts, also pop-corn, peanuts, and a lot of other things besides.

She had just polished the last red apple and set it on top of the pile, when a grain of the magic snuff got up her nose.

"Achoo!" she sneezed, and really it was as loud as if one of the cannon in front of the courthouse had gone off.

Such a sudden gust of wind was
